

LIBRARY

... ...

University of California.

07188

The Tudor Facsimile Texts

Sir John Oldcastle

In consequence of the miscarriage of proofs in the post the fact that the "non-ascribed" title-page in this facsimile is itself in facsimile is not recorded, as it should be, in the "Prelim."

I regret the accident. This slip will, however, set out the fact.

JOHN S. FARMER,

General Editor.

LITTLE MISSENDEN, 13th January, 1911.

The Tudor Facsimile Texts

Sir John Oldcastle

"Written by William Shakespeare"

Date of Earliest Known Editions (two in same year)	1600
[B.M. Press-marks, C. 34, l. 1, and C. 34, l. 2]
Next issued in the third folio Shakespeare	1664
Also issued in the folio of	1684
Reproduced in Facsimile	1011

The Tudor Facsimile Texts

Under the Supervision and Editorship of JOHN S. FARMER

Sir John Oldenstle

"Written by WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE"

1600

Issued for Subscribers by the Editor of
THE TUDOR FACSIMILE TEXTS

MCMXI

Sir John Oldcastle

"Written by WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE"

1600

Two editions of this play were issued in 1600; one impression B.M. Press-mark, C. 34, l. 1] ascribed it to Shakespeare, the other [C. 34, l. 2] did not. It is uncertain which of the two is the earlier. Both title pages are herein given, but the text which follows is from the impression which lacks the ascription. In this edition certain errors of the press appearing in the other were corrected.

"Sir John Oldcastle" next appeared in the third folio, and afterwards in the folio of 1684.

Henslowe's "Diary" seems incontestably to negative the ascription to Shakespeare.

Mr. J. A. Herbert, of the Manuscript Department of the British Museum, after comparing this facsimile with the original copy, says that again the reproduction is excellent in every respect.

JOHN S. FARMER.

The first part

Of the true & honorable history, of the Life of Sir Iohn Old-castle, the good Lord Cobham.

As it hath bene lately alted by the Right honorable the Earle of Notingham Lord High Admiral of England, his Seruants.

Written by William Shakespeare.

London printed for T.P. 1600.

The first part

Of the true and honorable historie, of the life of Sir fohn Old-castle, the good Lord Cobham.

As it bath been lately alted by the right bonorable the Earle of Notingham Lord high Admirall of England his feruants.

LONDON

Printed by V.S. for Thomas Pauler, and are to be folde at his shop at the figne of the Catte and Parrots neere the Exchange.

1600.

The Prologue.

He doubtful Title(Gentlemen) prefixt
Upon the Argument we haue in hand,
May breede inspence, and wrong fully disturbe
The peacefull quiet of your seried thoughts:
To stop which scruple set this briefe suffise.
It is no pamperd glutton we present,

Nor aged Councellor to youthfull finne,
Rut one, whose vertue shone about the rest,
A valiant Martyr, and a vertuous peere,
In whose true faith and loyalite exprest
Unto his sourraigne, and his countries weale:
We strive to pay that tribute of our Loue,
Your favours merite, let faire Truth be gracite,
Since for de invention former time defacte.

The true and honorable Historie, of the life of Sir Iohn Oldcastle, the good Lord Cobham.

In the fight, enter the Sheriffe and two of his men.

Sheriffe.

Y Lords, I charge ye in his Highnesse name, To keepe the peace, you, and your followers. Herb. Good M. Sheriffe, look vnto your felf. Tow. Do so, for we have other businesse.

Proffer to fight againe

Sher. Will ye disturbe the Judges, and the Assist Heare the Kings proclamation ye were belt.

Pow. Hold then, lets heare it.

Herb. But be briefe, ye were belt.

Bayl. Oyes.

Dany Costone, make shorter O, or shall marre your Yes.

Bay. O ves.

Owen What, has her nothing to say but O yes?

Bay. Oves.

Dá. O nay, pye Cosse plut downe with her, down with her, A Pawelle a Pawelle.

Gongh A Herbert a Herbert, and downe with Powelle. Helter skelter againe.

Sher. Hold, in the Kings name, hold.

Oren Downe e tha ka naues name, downe.

In

The first part of

In this fight, the Bailiffe is knocked downe, and the Sheriffe and the other runne away.

Herb. Powelle, I thinke thy Welth and thou do finart.
Pow. Herbert, I thinke my fword came neere thy heart.
Herb. Thy hearts best bloud shall pay the losse of mine.

Gough A Herberta Herbert

Dany A Pawesse a Pawesse.

As they are lifting their weapons, enter the Maior of Hereford, and his Officers and Townes-men with clubbes.

Maior My Lords, as you are liegemen to the Crowne, True noblemen, and subjects to the King, Attendibe, Highneffe proclamation, Commaunded by the Judges of Affile, For keeping peace at this affemblie.

Herb. Good M. Maior of Hereford be briefe.

M.ii. Serieant, without the ceremonie of O yes.

Pronounce aloud the proclamation.

Ser. The Kings luftices, perceiuing what publique infichiefe may enfue this private quarrelism his matelies name do straightly charge and commaund all persons, of what degree focuer, to depart this cittle of Hereford, except such as are bound to give attendance at this Assis, and that no man presume to weare any weapon, especially welsh-hookes, forsest billes.

Owen Haw, no pill nor wells hoog? ha?

Ma. Peace, and heare the proclamation.

Ser. And that the Lord Powelle do prefently disperse and discharge his retinue, and depart the cittie in the Kings peace, he and his followers, on paine of imprisonment.

Dang Haw?pud her Lord Paweflein prilon, A Pawes

A Pawelle, costone line and tie with her Lord.

Gough A Herbert a Herbert. .

In this fight the Lord Herbert is wounded, and fals to the ground, the Maior and his company goe away crying clubbes, Poweffe runnes away, Gough and other of Herberts fallion buffe themselves about Herbert: enters the two Indges in their roades, the į.

sir Iohn Old-castle.

the Sheriffe and his Bailifes afore them &c. I. Ind. Where's the Lord Herbert? is he hurt or flaine? Sher. Hee's here my Lord. 2. Ind. How fares his Lordshippe, friends? Gough Mortally wounded, speechlesse, he cannot line. 1. Ind Conuay him hence, let not his wounds take ayre, And get him dress'd with expedition, Ex. Herb & Gonch M. Maior of Hereford M Shrive o'th thire, Commit Lord Powelle to lafe cultodie, To answer the disturbance of the peace, Lord Herberts perill, and his high contempt Of vs, and you the Kings commissioners, See it be done with care and diligence. Sher. Pleaseityour Lordship, my Lord Powesseis gone, Past all recouery. 2. Ind. Yet let fearch be made, To apprehend his followers that are left. Sher. There are some of them, sirs, lay hold on them, Owen Of vs, and why? what has her done I pray you? Sher. Disarme them Bailiffes. Ma. Officers affift. Dany Heare you Lor shudge, what resson is for this? Owen: Cosson pe puse for fighting for our Lord? I. Indge Away with them. Dany Harg you my Lord. (Thitten ka naue, ') Owen Gough my Lorde Herberts man's a Both at Dawy Iseliue and tiem good quarrell. Owen Pray you do shustice, letawl be preson. Dany Prison no, Yord hudge I wooll give you pale, good fuerty. 2. Indge What Baletwhat fuerties? Dany Her couzin ap Ries, ap Euan, ap Morrice, ap Morgan, ap Lluellyn, ap Madoc, ap Meredith, ap Griffen, ap Dauy, ap Owen ap Shinken Shones. 2 Indge. Two of the most, sufficient are ynow, Sher. And't please your Lordship these are al but one. 1. Indge.

sir Iobn Old-castle.

Innocent of it, onely his name was vide. We therefore from his Highnesse give this charge. You mailter Maior, looke to your citizens, You maister Sherife vnto your shire, and you As Iustices in every ones precinct There be no meetings. When the vulgar fort Sit on their Ale-bench, with their cups and kannes, Matters of state be not their common talke, Nor pure religion by their lips prophande. Let vs returne vnto the Bench againe, And there examine further of this fray. Enter a Baily and Sher. Sits, haue'ye taken the ford Powelle yet? a Serieant Ba. No, nor heard of him. Ser. No, hee's gone farre enough. 2.14. They that are left behind, thalf answer all. Exeunt. Enter Suffolke, Bishop of Rochester, Butler, parson of Wrotham. Suffolke Now my lord Bishop, take free liberty To speake your minde: what is your fute to vs? Bishop My noble Lord, no more than what you know, And have bin oftentimes invested with: Grieuous complaints haue past betweene the lippes Of enuious persons to vpbraide the Cleargy, Some carping at the liuings which we have, And others spurning at the ceremonies That are of auncient custome in the church. Amongst the which, Lord Cobham is a chiefe: What inconvenience may proceede hereof, Both to the King and to the common wealth, May eafily be discerned, when like a frensie

To vindergoe his quarrell gainst the French.

Suffolke What proofe is there against them to be had,
That what you say the law may justifie?

This innougtion (hall possesses their mindes. These vpstarts will have followers to vphold Their damnd opinion, more than Harry shall

Bushop They give themselves the name of Protestants,

B And

The first part of

And meete in fields and folitary groues. fir Ihon Was ever heard (my Lord) the like til now? That theeues and rebells, s bloud heretikes, Playne heretikes, lle stand toote to their teeth, Should have to colour, their vile practiles, A title of fuch worth, as Protestant? enter one wyth a letter. Suf. O but you must not sweare, it ill becomes One of your coate, to rappe out bloudy pathes. Bis. Pardon him good my Lord, it is his zeale, An honest country prelate, who laments To fee fuch foule diforder in the church Sir John Theres one they call him Sir John Old-castle, He has not his name for naught: for hke a caftle Doth he encompasse them within his walls, But till that castle be subuerted quite, We no re shall be at quiet in the realme. Bif. That is our fute, my Lord, that he be tane, And brought in question for his berefie, Belide two letters brought me out of Wales, Wherin my Lord Perford writes to me, What tumult and fedition was begun, About the Lord Cobham, at the Sifes there, For they had much ado to calme the rage, And that the valiant Herbert is there slaine. Suf. A fire that must be quencht, wel, fay no more, The King anon goes to the counfell chamber, There to debate of matters touching France: As he doth passe by, lle informe his grace Concerning your petition: Master Butler, If I forget, do you remember me, Offer him a purfe. But. I will my Lord. Bis. Not for a recompence, But as a token of our love to you, By me my Lords of the cleargie do prefent

This purse, and in it full a thousand Angells, Praying your Lordship to accept their gift.

sir fobn Old-castle.

Suf. I thanke them, my Lord Bithop, for their loue, But will not take their mony, if you please To give it to this gentleman, you may.

Bish. Sir, then we crave your furtherance herein.

But. The best I can my Lord of Rochester.
Bish. Nay, pray ye take it, trust me but you shal, fir Iohn Were ye all three vpon New Market heath,'

You thould not neede straine curtie who should ha'te,

Sir Iohn would quickely rid ye of that care.

Suf The King is comming, feare ye not my Lord,

The very first thing I will breake with him,

Shalbe aboutyour matter. Enter K. Harry and Hunning-

Har. My Lord of Suffolke, ron in talke.

Was it not faide the Cleargy did refuse
To lend vs mony toward our warres in France?

Saf. It was my Lord, but very wrongfully.

Har. I know it was, for Huntington here tells me,

They have bin very bountifull of late.

Suf. And still they wow my gracious Lord to be so,

Hoping your maiestie will thinke of them, As of your louing subjects, and suppresse

All fuch malitious errors as begin

To fpot their calling, and diffurb the church.

Har. God elfe forbid: why Suffolke, is there

Any new rupture to disquiet them?

Suf. No new my Lord, the old is great enough, And soincreating, as if not cut downe,

Will breede a scandale to your royall state,

And set your Kingdome quickely in an vproare,

The Kentish knight, Lord Cobham, in despight Of any law, or spiritual discipline,

Maintaines this vostart new religion still,

And divers great affemblies by his meanes

And private quarrells, are comment abroad,

As by this letter more at large my liege; Is made apparant.

ice apparanti.

Har.

The first part of

Har. We do find it here,
There was in Wales a certaine fray of late,
Betweene two noblemen, but what of thus?
Followes it straight Lord Cobhain must be he I'd cause the same? I dare be sworne (good knight)
He neuer dreampt of any such contention.

Bill. But in his name the quarrell did begin, About the opinion which he held (my liege.)

Har. How is it did? was either he in place, To take part with them, or abette them in it? If brabling fellowes, whose inkindled bloud, Seethes in their fiery vaines, will needes go fight, Making their quarrells of some words that passt, Either of you, or you, amongst their cuppes,

Is the fault yours, or are they guiltie of it?

Suffolke With pardon of your Highneffe (my dread lord)
Such little sparkes neglected, may in time
Grow to a mighty flame: but thats not all,

He doth befide maintaine a strange religion,

And will not be compelld to come to masse.

Bis. We do beseech you therefore gracious prince,
Without offence vnto your maiesty
We may be bold to vie authoritie.

Harry Ashow?

Biftop To fummon him vnto the Arches,
Where fuch offences have their punishment.

Harry To answere personally, is that your meaning?

Bishop Itis, my lord.

Harry Howif he appeale?

Bishop He cannot (my Lord) in such a case as this. Suffothe Not where Religion is the plea, my lord.

Harry I tooke it alwayes, that our felfe stoode ont,

As a fufficient refuge, voto whome Not any but might lawfully appeale. But weele not argue now voon that poynt: For fir Iohn Old-caftle whom you accuse.

fir Iobn Old-caftle.

Let me intreate you to dispence awhile With your high title of preheminence. in corne. Report did neuer yet condemne him fo, But he hath alwayes beene reputed lovall: And in my knowledge I can fay thus much, That he is vertuous, wife, and honourable: If any way his conscience be seduc'de, To wauer in his faith: He fend for him, And schoole him prinately, if that serue not, Then afterward you may proceede against him. Butler, be you the messenger for vs, And will him presently repaire to court. fir Iohn How now my lord, why stand you discontent? In footh, me thinkes the King hath well decreed. Bishop Yea, yea, sir Iohn, if he would keepe his word, But I perceive he favours him so much, As this will be to small effect, I feare. fir Iohn Why then Ile tell you what y'are best to do: If you suspect the King will be but cold In reprehending him, fend you a processe too To ferue vpon him: fo you may be fure To make him answer't, howsoere it fall. Bishap And well remembred, I will have it so, A Sumner shall be sent about it strait fir Iohn Yea, doe so, in the meane space this remaines For kinde fir Iohn of Wrotham honest lacke.

Me thinkes the purse of gold the Bishop gaue, Made a good shew, it had a tempting looke, Beforew me, but my fingers ends do itch 1 o be vpon those rudduks : well, tis thus: I am not as the worlde does take me for:-If ever woolfe were cloathed in sheepes coate, Then I am he, olde huddle and twang, yfaith, A priest in shew, but in plaine termes, a theefe, Yet let me tell you too, an honest theefe, One that will take it where it may be sparde,

And

And spend it freely in good fellow ship. ·I have as many thapes as Protein had, That full when any villany is done, There may be none suspect it was fir Iohn. L'esides, to comfort me, for whats this life, Except the crabbed bitternes thercof Be fweetened now and then with lechery? I haue my Doll, my concubine as t'were, To frollicke with, a lufty bounfing gerle. But whilft I loyter here the gold, may scape, And that must not be so, it is mine owne, Therefore He meete him on his way to court, And thrue him of it: there will be the sport Enter three or foure poore people, some (ouldiers, some old men

Exit.

God help, God help, there's law for punishing, But theres no law for our necessity: There be more stockes to set poore foldiers in,

Than there be houses to releeve them at. Old man Faith, housekeeping decayes in every place,

Euen as Saint Peter writ, still worse and worse

Maister major of Rochester has given commaundement, that none shall goe abroade out of the parish, and they haue set an order downe forfooth, what every poore housholder must give towards our reliefe: where there be some ceased I may fay to you, had almost as much neede to beg as we.

It is a hard world the while.

Old man If a poore man come to a doore to aske for Gods fake, they aske him for a licence, or a ceruficate from a Justice.

2 Faith we have none, but what we beare vppon our hodies, our maimed limbs, God help vs.

4 And yet, as lame as I am, le with the king into France. Le can crawle but a ship-boorde, I hadde rather be slaine in France,than ftarue in England.

Olae man. Ha, were I but as lufty as I was at the hattell of Shrewsbury, I would not doe as I do: but we are now come to the good lord Cobhains, to the best man to the poore that

sir John Old-castle.

is in all Kent.

4 God blesse him, there be but few such.

Enter Lord Cobham with Harpoole.

Enter Loral obbarwith Harpoole.

Cob. Thou peeuith froward man, what wouldn't thou haue?

Harp. This pride, this pride, brings all to beggarie,

I feru de your fathersand your grandfather,

Shew me fuch two men now: no, no,

Your backes, your backes, the diuell and pride,

Has cut the throate of all good housekeeping,

They were the best Yeomens masters, that

Euer were in England.

Cob. Yea, except thou have a crue of feely knaues, And flurdy rogues, still feeding at my gate,

There is no hospitalitie with thee.

Harp. They may fit at the gate well enough, but the diuell of any thing you give them, except they will eate flones.

Yea sir, heres your retinue, your guests be come, to the They know their howers I warrant you. beggars Old. God blesse your honour, God sauethe good Lord

Cobham, and all his house,

Soul. Good your honour, bestow your blessed almes, Vpon poore men.

Cob. Now fir, here be your Almes knights.

Now are you as fafe as the Emperour.

Harp. My Almes knights: nay, th'are yours,
It is a shame for you, and He stand too't,
Your foolish almes maintaines more vagabonds,
Then all the noblemen in Kent beside.'
Out you rogues, you knaues worke for your livings,
Alas poore men, O Lord they may beg their hearts out,
Theres no more charitie amongst men,
Then amongst so many mashifte dogges,
What make you here, you needy knaues?
Away, away, you villaines.

2. foul. I beseech you sir, be good to vs,

Cob.

Cobham Nay, nay, they know thee well enough, I thinke that all the beggars in this land are thy acquaintance, goe bestowe your almes, none will controule you fir.

Harp. What should I give them? you are growne so beggarly, you have scarce a bitte of breade to give at your doore; you talke of your religion so long, that you have banished charitie from amongst you, a man may make a flaxe shop in your kitchin chimmes, for any fire there is stirring.

Cobham If thou wilt give them nothing, fend them hence, let them not stand here starning in the colde.

Harp. Who I drive them kence? If I drive poore men from your doore, He be hangd, I know not what I may come to my felfe: yea, God help you poore knaues, ye fee the world yfaith, well, you had a mother: well, God be with thee good Lady, thy foule's at reft: the gave more in thirts and finocks to poore children, then you spend in your house, & yet you live a beggar too.

Cobham Euen the worst deede that ere my mother did, was in relecuing fuch a foole as thou.

Harpoole Yea, yea, I am a foole still, with all your wit you will die a beggar, go too.

Cobbam Go you olde foole, give the poore people fomething, go in poore men into the inner court, and take fuch alms as there is to be had.

Souldier God bleffe your honor.

Harpoole Hang you roags, hang you, theres nothing but milery amongst you, you feare no law you.

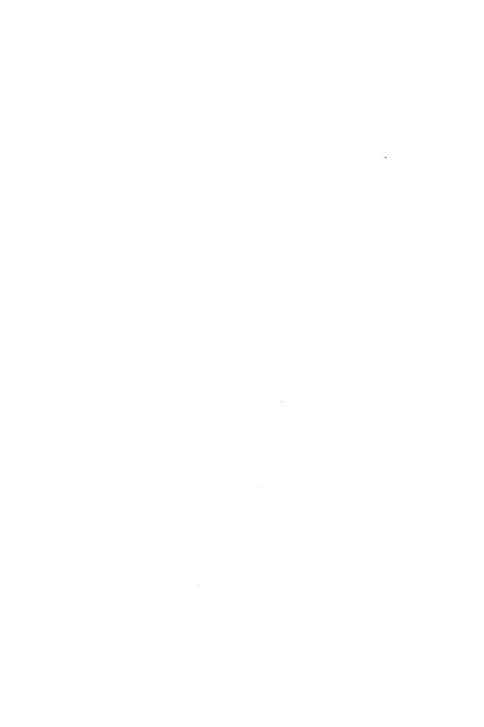

Exu.

Olde man God blesse you good maister Rase, God saue your life, you are good to the poore still.

Enter the Lord Powes disguised, and shrowde himselfe. Cobbam What fellow's yonder comes along the groue? Few passengers there be that know this way? Methinkes he stops as though he stayd for me, And meant to shrowd himselfe amongst the bushes. I know the Cleargie hate me to the death, And my religion gets me many foes:

 $\mathbf{A}$ nd

fir Iohn Old-castie.

And this may be some desperate rogue, Subornd to worke me mischiefe: As it Pleaseth God, if he come toward me, sure He stay his comming, be he but one man, The Lord Powis comes on. What foere he be: I have beene well acquainted with that face. Powis Well met my honorable lord and friend. Cobham You are welcome fir, what ere you be, But of this fodaine fir, I do not know you. Powis I am one that wisheth well vnto your honor, My name is Powes, an olde friend of yours. Cobham My honorable lord, and worthy friend, What makes your lordship thus alone in Kent, And thus difguifed in this strange attire? Ponis My Lord, an vnexpected accident, Hath at this time inforc de me to these parts: And thus it hapt, not yetful five dayes lince, Now at the last Assistant Hereford, It chanst that the lord Herbert and my selfe, Mongst other things, discoursing at the table. To fall in speech about some certaine points Of Wickeliffes doctrine, gainst the papacie, And the religion catholique, maintaind Through the most part of Europe at this day. This wilfull teafty lord stucke not to say, That Wickcliffe was a knaue, a schismatike, His doctrine divelish and hereticall, And what foere he was maintaind the fame, was traitor both to God and to his country. Being moued at his peremptory speech, I told him, some maintained those opinions, Men and truer subjects then ford Herbert was: And he replying in comparisons: Your name was vrgde, my lord, gainst his chalenge, To be a perfect fauourer of the trueth.

And to be short from words we fell to blowes,

Our

Our feruants, and our tenants taking parts, Many on both fides hurt; and for an houre The broyle by no meanes could be pacified, Vntill the Judges rifing from the bench, Were in their persons forcide to part the fray.

Cobham I hope no man was violently staine.

Ponis Faith none I trust, but the lord Herberts selfe,

Who is in truth so dangerously hurt, As it is doubted he can hardly scape.

Cobbam I am fory, my good lord, of these ill newes.

Ponis This is the cause that drives me into Kent, To shrowd my selfe with you so good a friend, Vntill I heare how things do speed at home.

Cobbam Your lordship is most welcome vnto Cobham,

But I am very fory, my good lord, My name was brought in question in this matter,

Considering I have many enemies,

That threaten malice, and do lie in waite To take aduantage of the smallest thing.

But you are welcome; and repole your lordship,

And keepe your felfe here fecret in my houle, Vitill we heare how the lord Herbert speedes:

Here comes my man. Sirra, what newes?

Harpoole Yonders one mailter Butler of the privile cham-

Enter Harpoole.

Formis 1 pray God the lord Herbert be not dead, and the King hearing whither I am gone, hath fent for me.

Cob. Comfort your felfe iny lord, I warrant you.

Harpoole Fellow, what ales thee doof thou quake? doft thou shake? doft thou tremble? har

Cob. Peace you old foole, firra, convey this gentleman in the backe way, and bring the other into the walke.

Hurpoole Come fir. you are welcome, if you loue my lorde. Powis God have mercy gentle friend. exemn.

Cob. I thought as much, that it would not be long before I heard

sir fohn Old-caftle.

heard of Comething from the King, about this matter.

Souter Harpoole with Maifter Butler.

Harpoole Sir, yonder my lord walkes, you fee him, Ile haue your men into the Celler the while.

Cobb. welcome good maister Butler.

Butler Thankes, my good lord: his Maiestie dooth commend his love vnto your lordship, and wils you to repaire vnto the court.

Cobh. God bleffe his Highnesse, and confound his enne-mies, I hope his Maiestie is well.

Butler In health, my lord.

Cobb. God long continue it: mee thinkes you looke as though you were not well, what ailes you sir?

Butler Faith I have had a foolish odde mischance, that angers mee: comming over Shooters hill, there came a fellow to me like a Sailer, and asked me money, and whilst I staide my horseto draw my purse, he takes th'aduantage of a little banck and leapes behind me, whippes my purse away, and with a so-daine ierke I know not how, threw me at least three yards out of my saddle. I neuer was so robbed in all my life.

Cobb. I am very forte fir for your mischance, wee will send our warrant foorth, to stay such suspitious persons as shal be found, then maister Butler, we wil attend you.

Butter I humbly thanke your lord(hip, I will attend you.

Sum. I have the law to warrant what I do, and though the Lord Cobham be a noble man, that dispenses not with law, I dare serve processe were a five noble men, though we Sumners make sometimes a mad slip in a corner with a prettie wench, a Sumner must not goe alwayes by seeing, a manne may be content to hide his eies, where he may feele his profit: well, this is my Lord Cobhams house, if I can deuise to speake with him, if not, Ile clap my citation vpon's doore, so my lord of Rochester bid me, but me thinkes here coines one of his men.

Enter Harpoole.

Harp. Welcome good fellow, welcome, who would't thou C 2 fpeake speake with?

Sum. With my lord Cobham, I would speake, if thou be one of his men.

Harp. Yes I am one of his men, but thou canst not speake with my lord.

Sum. May I fend to him then?

Harp. He tel thee that, when I know thy errand-

Sum. I will not tel my errand to thee.

Harp. Then keepe it to thy felfe, and walke like a knaue as thou cameft.

Sum. I tell thee my lord keepes no knaues, firra.

Harr. Then thou feruest him not, I beleeue, what lord is thy master?

Sum. Mylord of Rochester.

Harp. In good time, and what wouldst thou have with my lord Cobham?

Sum. I come by vertue of a processe, to ascite him to appeare before my lord, in the court at Rochester.

Harp asule. Wel, God grant me patience, I could eatethis conger. My lord is not at home, therefore it were good Sumianer you caried your processe backe.

Sum. Why, if he will not be spoken withall, then will I leave it here, and see you that he take knowledge of it.

Harp. Swounds you flaue, do you fet vp your bills here, go to, take it downe againe, doeft thou know what thou doft, doft thee know on whom thou feruest processes.

Sum. Yesmarry doe I, Sir Iohn Old-castle Lord Cob-ham.

Harp. I am glad thou knowest him yet, and sirra dost nor thou know, that the lord Cobham is a braue lord, that keepes good beefe and beere in his house, and every day seedes a hundred poore people at's gate, and keepes a hundred tall fellowes?

Sum. Whats that to my processe?

Harp. Mary this fir, is this processe parchment?

Sum. Yes mary.

sir Iohn Old-castle.

Harp. And this feale waxe?

Sum. Itis fo.

Harp. If this be parchment, & this wax, eate you this parchment, and this waxe, or I will make parchment of your skinne, and beate your braines into waxe: Sirra Sumner dispatch, deuoure, sirra deuoure.

Sum. I am my lord of Rochesters Sumner, I came to do my office, and thou shalt answere it.

Harp. Sirra, no railing, but betake you to your teeth, thou shalt cate no worse then thou bringst with thee, thou bringst it for my lord, and wilt thou bring my lord worse then thou wilt eate thy felfe?

Sum. Sir, I brought it not my lord to eate.

Harp. O do you firme now, all sone for that, but ile make you eatest, for bringing it.

Sum. I cannot eate it.

Harp. Can you not? sbloudile beate you vntil you have a ftomacke. he beates him.

Sum. O hold, hold, good mafter feruing-man, I will eate it. Harp. Be champping, be chawing fir, or lle chaw you, you rogue, the purest of the hony.

Sum. Tough waxe, is the pureft of the hony.

Harp. O Lord sir, oh oh,

Feed, feed, wholfome rogue, wholfome.

Cannot you like an honest Summer walke with the distell your brother, to fetch in your Bailiffes rents, but you must come to anoble mans house with processe? Sbloud if thy seale were as broad as the lead that couers Rochester church, thou shouldst eate it.

Sum. O I am almost choaked, I am almost choaked.

Harp. Who's within there? wil you shame my Lord, is there no becre in the house? Butler I say. Enter Butler.

But. Heere, here. he drinkes. Harp. Giue him Beere

There, tough old sheepskins, bare drie meate.

Sum. O fir, let me go no further, lle eate my word. C 3.

barp.

Harp. Yea mary fir, so I meane you shall eate more then your own word, for the make you eate all the words in the processes. Why you drab monger, cannot the secrets of all the wenches in a sheire serie your curne, but you must come hither with a citation with a poxe? He citeyou.

A cup of sacke for the Sumner.

But. Here fir here.

Harp . Here saue I drinke to thee.

Sum. I thanke you fir.

Harp. Now if thou findst thy stomacke well, because thou shalt see my Lord keep's meate in's house, if thou wilt go in thou shalt have a peece of beefe to thy break fast.

Sum. No I am very well good M. seruing-man, I thanke you, very well fir.

Harp. I am glad on t, then be walking towards Rochester to keepe your stomack warme: and Sumner, if I may know you disturb a good wench within this Diocesse, if I do not make thee eate her peticote, if there were four yards of Kennish cloth in t, I am a villaine.

Sam. God be with you M. seruingmaan.

Harp. Farewell Sumner. Enter Conf. ble.

Con. God saue you M. Harpoole.

Harp. Welcome Conflable, welcom Conflable, what news with thee?

Com. And t please you M. Harpoole, I am to make hue to crie, for a fellow with one cie that has rob d two Clothiers and anoto craue your hindrance, for to search all suspected places, and they say there was a woman in the company.

Harp. Hast thou bin at the Alchouse, hast thou sought

there?

Con. I durift not fearch fir, in my Lord Cobhans libertie, except I had fome of his feruants, which are for my warrant.

Harp. An honest Constable, an honest Constable, cal forth him that keepes the Alchouse there.

Con. Ho, who's within there.

Ale man Who calls there, come neeres Gods name; ohis't you

sir fobn Old-castle.

you M. Constable and M. Harpoole, you are welcome with all my heart, what make you here so earely this morning?

Hurp. Sirra, what strangers do you lodge, there is a robbery done this morning, and we are to search for all suspected perfons.

Aleman. Gods bores, I am fory for t, yfaith fir I lodge no body but a good honest mery priest, they call him fir I ohn a Wrootham, and a handsome woman that is his neece, that he saies he has some sute in law for, and as they go vp & down to London, sometimes they lie at my house.

Harp. What, is he here in thy house now?

Con. She is fir, I promife you fir he is a quiet man, and because he will not trouble too many roomes, he makes the woman lie euery night at his beds seete.

Harp. Bring her forth Constable, bring her forth, let's see her, let's fee her.

Con. Dorothy, you must come downe to M. Constable.

Dol. Anonforsooth.

Be enters.

Harp. Welcome sweete lasse, welcome.

Dol. Ithank you good M. seruing-man, and master Constable also.

Harp. A plump girle by the mas, a plump girle, ha Dol ha, wilt thou for fake the prieft, and go with me.

Con. A well faid M. Harpoole, you are a merrie old man yfaith, yfaith you wil neuer be old: now by the macke, a prettie wench indeed.

Harp. Ye old mad mery Constable, art thou aduis'de of that ha, well faid Dol, fill some ale here.

Dol a side Ohif I wish this old priest would not slicke to me, by I oue I would ingle this old serving-man.

Harp. Oh you o d'mad colt, yfaith Ile feak you: fil all the pots in the house there.

· Con. Oh wel faid M.Harpoole, you are heart of oake when all s done.

Harp. Ha Dol, thou hast a sweete paire of lippes by the masse.

Doll Truely you are a most sweet olde man, as ever I sawe, by my troth, you have a face, able to make any woman in love with you.

Harp. Fill sweete Doll, He drinke to thee.

Doll I pledge you fir, and thanke you therefore, and I pray you let it come.

Harp. imbracing her Doll, canst thou lone me?a mad merry lasse, would to God I had neuer seene thee.

1) old I warrant you you will not out of my thoughts this twelucmonth, truely you are as full of fauour, as a man may be. Ah these sweete grey lockes, by my troth, they are most louely.

Constable Gods boores maister Harpoole, I will haue one busse too.

Harp. No licking for you Constable, hand off, hand off.

Conflable Bur lady I loue kissing as wel as you.

Dell Oh you are an od boie, you have a wanton eie of your owne: ah you fweet fugar lipt wanton, you will winne as many womens hearts as come in your company.

Enter Prieft.

Wrosh. Doll, come hither. Harp. Priest, she shal not.

Doll lle come anone, sweete loue.

Wroth. Hand off.old fornicator.

Harp. Vicar, Ile fit here in spight of thee, is this fitte stuffe for a priest to carry vp and downe with him?

Wrotham Ah firra, dost thou not know, that a good fellow parson may have a chappel of ease, where his parish Church is farre off?

Harp. You who ore fon fton'd Vicar.

Wroth. You olde stale ruffin, you lion of Cotswold.

Harp. Swounds Vicar, Ile geld you flies upon him.
Conflable Keepe the Kings peace.

Doll Murder, murder, murder.

Aleman Holde, as you are men, holde, for Gods sake be quiet: put vp your weapons, you drawe not in my house.

Harp. You whoorefon bawdy priest.

Wroth.

fir John Old-castle.

Froth. You old mutton monger.

Constable Hold fir Iohn, hold.

Doll to the Priest I pray thee sweet heart be quiet, I was but fitting to drinke a pot of ale with him, even as kinde a man as ouer I met with.

Harp. Thou art a theefe I warrant thee.

Wroth. Then I am but as thou hast beene in thy dayes, lets not be ashamed of our trade, the King has beene a theefe himfelfe.

Dell Come, be quiet, hast thou sped?

Wrah. I have wench, here be crownes if aith.

Doll Come lets be all friends then.

Constable Well said mistris Dorothy if aith.

Harp. Thou art the madle priest that ever I met with Wroth. Give me thy hand, thou art as good a fellow, I am a finger, a drinker, a bencher, a wencher, I can fay a maffe, and kille a lalle: faith I haue a parlonage, and bicause I would not be at too much charges, this wench ferues me for a fexton.

Harp. Well faid mad priest, weele in and be friends. exernet.

Enter fir Roger Action, master Bourne, mafter Benericy, a - William Murley the brewer of Dunstable.

Acton Now maister Murley, I am well assurde

You know our arrant, and do like the cause,

Being a man affected as we are?

Mn. Mary God dild ve daintie my deere, no master, goodfir Roger Acton Knight, maister Bourne, and maister Beuerley esquires, gentlemen, and justices of the peace, no mailter I, but plaine William Murly the brewer of Dunstable your honest neighbour, and your friend, if ye be men of my professi-

Benerles Professed friends to Wickliffe. foes to Rome. Murl. Hold by melad, leane vpon that staffe good maifter Beuerley, all of a house, say your mind, say your mind.

Acton You know our faction now is growne so great, Throughout the realme, that it beginnes to smoake Into the Cleargies eies, and the Kings eares, High .

High time it is that we were drawne to head,
Our generall and officers appoynted.
And warres ye wot will aske great flore of coine.
Able to strength our action with your purse,
You are elected for a colonell

Ouer a regiment of fificene bands.

Murley Fue paltrie paltrie, in and out, to and fro, be it more or leffe, yppon occasion, Lorde haue mercie yppon vs, what a world is this? Sir Roger A &ton, I am but a Dunstable man, a plaine brewer ye know: will lusty Caualiering captaines gentlemen come at my calling, goe at my bidding? Daintie my deere, there doe a dogge of wate, a horse of cheese, a pricke and a pudding 10, 10, ye must appoint some lord or knight at least to that place.

at least to that place.

Bowrne Why master Murley, you shall be a Knight: Were you not in election to be shrieue?

Haue ye not past all offices but that?

Haue ye not wealth to make your wife a lady?

I warrant you, my lord, our Generall

Bestowes that honor on you at first fight.

Murley Mary God dild ye daintie my deare:

But tell me, who shalbe our Generall?

Wheres the lord Cobham, fir Iohn Old-castle,

That noble almes giver, housekeeper, vertuous,

Religious gentleman? Come to me there boies,

Come to me there.

Action Why who but he shall be our Generall?

Murley And shall he knight me, and make me colonell?

Action My word for that, fir William Murley knight.

Murley Fellow sir Roger Action knight, all fellowes, I meane in armes, how strong are we? how many partners? our occasion, recken our force.

After There are of vs our friends, and followers, Three thousand and three hundred at the least, Of northerne lads foure thousand, beside horse,

From

sir Iohn Old-castle.

From Kent there comes with fir Iolin Old-castle Seauen thousand, then from London issue out, Of maisters, seruants, strangers, prentices Fortie odde thousands into Ficket field, Where we appoint our speciall randeuous.

Murley Fue paltry paltry, in and out to and fro, Lord haue. mercie vpon vs, what a world is this, wheres that Ficket fielde, fir Roger?

Action Behinde faint Giles in the field neere Holborne.

Aturley Newgate, vp Holborne, S. Giles in the field, and to Tiborne, an old faw: for the day, for the day?

Acton On friday next the fourcteenth day of Ianuary.

Murley Tyllie vallie, trust me neuer if I haue any liking of that day: fue paltry paltry, friday quoth a, dismall day, Childermassed ay this yeare was friday.

Benerley Nay maister Murley, if you obserue such daies,

We make some question of your constancie, All daies are like to men resolu de in right.

Murley Say Amen, and say no more, but say, and hold mafter Beuerley, friday next, and Ficket field, and William Murley, and his merry men shalbe al one, I haue halfe a score iades that draw my beere cartes, and euery iade shall beare a knaue, and euery knaue shall weare a lacke, and euery iacke shall haue a scull, and euery scull shall shew a speare and euery speare shal kill a foe at Ficket field, at Ficket field, I ohn and Tom, and Dicke and Hodge, and Rafe and Robin, William & George, and all my knaues shall sight like men, at Ficket field on friday next.

Bourne What lumme of money meane you to disburfe?

Murley It may be modelfly, decently, foberly, and hand-fomely I may bring fine hundreth pound.

Atton Fine hundreth man? fine thousand's not enough,
A hundreth thousand will not pay our men
Two months together, either come preparde
Like a brane Knight, and martiall Colonell,
In glittering golde, and gallant furniture,

D 2
Bringing

Bringing in toyne, a eart loade at the leaft, And all your followers mounted on good horse, Or neuer come difgracefull to vs all.

Benerley Perchance you may be chosen Treasurer, Tenne thousand pounds the least that you can bring.

Murley Paltry paltry, in and out, to and fro, vpon occasion I have ten thousand pound to spend, and tenne too. And rather than the Bishop shall have his will of mee for my conscience, it shall out all. Flame and flaxe, flame and flaxe, it was gotte with water and manit, and it shall flie with fire and guinne powder. Sir Roger, a cart loade of mony til the axetee cracke, my selfe and my men in Ficket field on friday next: remember my Knighthoode, and my place: there's my hand He beathere.

Exit.

Action See what Ambition may perswade men to, In hope of honor he will spend himselfe.

Bosone I neuer thought a Brewer halfe so rich.

Beneries Wassieuer bankerout Brewer yet but one,

With ving too much mault, too little water.

Allon Thats no fault in Brewers now adayes:

Come, away about our bufineffe.

exense.

Enter K. Harry, Suffolke, Butler, and Old-castle kneeling.

Harry Tis not enough Lord Cobham to fubmit, You must forfake your grosseopinion, The Bishops find themselves much injured, And though for some good service you have done, We for our part are pleased to pardon you, Yet they will not so some be saussied, Codham My gracious Lord vnto your Maiestie, Next vnto my God, I owe my life, And what is mine, either by natures gift, Or fortunes bountie, al is at your service, But for obedience to the Pope of Rome, I owe him none, nor shall his shaueling priests. That are in England, alter my beliefe.

sir john Old-castle.

If out of holy Scripture they can proue,
That I am in an errour, I will yeeld,
And gladly take instruction at their hands,
But otherwise, I do beseech your grace,
My conscience may not be incroacht vpon.

Har. We would be loath to presse our subjects bodies,
Much lesse their soules, the deere redeemed part,
Of him that is the ruler of vs all,
Yet, let me counfell ye, that might command,
Do not presume to tempt them with ill words,
Nor suffer any meetings to be had
Within your house, but to the vttermost,

Disperse the flockes of this new gathering sect.

Cobham My liege, if any breathe, thet dares come forth,

And fay, my life in any of these points

Describes the attaindor of ignoble thoughts

Here stand I, crauing no remorce at all,

But cuen the vimost rigor may be showne.

Here I get to strong known your loveling.

Har. Let it suffice we know your loyaltie,

What have you there?

Your Highnesse pardon for Lord Powesse life, Which I did beg, and you my noble Lord, Of gracious fauour did vouchsafe to grant.

Her. But yet it is not signed with our hand.

Cob. Not yet my Liege. one ready with pen Har. The fact, you say, was done; and inche.

Har. The fact, you say, was done; Not of prepented malice, but by chance.

Cob. Vpon mine honor fo, no otherwise.

Har. There is his pardon, bid him make amends, writes.
And cleanse his soule to God for his offence,

What we remit, is but the bodies scourge, Emer Bishop.

How now Lord Bishop?

Bishop Justice dread Soueraigne.

As thou art King, so graunt I may have instice.

Mar. What meanes this exclamation, let vs know?

Bifile

Bi3. Ah my good Lord, the state's abused, And our decrees most shamefally prophande.

Har. How, or by whom? Tilb. Euen by this heretike,

This lew, this Traitor to your maiestie.

Cob. Prelate, thou lieft, euen in thy greafic maw, Or who focuer twits me with the name,

Of either traitor, or of heretike.

Har. Forbeare I say, and Bishop, shew the cause From whence this late abuse hath bin deriu'de, Bis. Thus mightie King, by generall consent, A messcapearance in the confissorie, And comming to his house, a russian slaue, One of his daily followers, met the man, Who knowing him to be a parator, Assume thin first, and after in contempt Of vs, and our proceedings, makes him eate The written processes, part the man, the written processes, makes him eate The written processes, makes him eate The written processes, makes him eate the man the russian says that the man the russian says the says and our processes are the written processes, and the says that the written processes, and the says the Nor we but scornd, for our authoritie.

Har. When was this done?

Bish. At fixe a clocke this morning. Har. And when came you to court?

Cob. Last night my Lord.

Har. By this it feemes, he is not guilty of it,
And you have done him wrong t'accuse him so.
Bus. But it was done my lord by his appointment,

Or else his man durst note have bin so bold.

Har. Or else you durst be bold, to interrupt,
And fill our eares with frivolous complaints,
Is this the duetie you do beare to vs?

Was't not sufficient we did passe our word
To send for him, but you missoubting it,
Or which is worse, intending to forestall
Our regall power, must likewise summon him?

This

sir Iohn Old-castle

This favours of Ambition, not of zeale, And rather proues, you malice his estate, Than any way that he offends the law. Go to, we like it not, and he your officer, That was imployed formuch amisse herein, Had his defert for being infolent: Enter Huntington So Cobhain when you pleafe you may depart. Cob. I humbly bid farewell vnto my liege. Exit Har. Farewell, what's the newes by Huntington? Hunt. Sir Roger Acton, and a crue, my Lord, Ofbold seditions rebels, are in Armes, Intending reformation of Religion. And with their Army they intend to pitch, In Ficket field, vnleffe they be repullt. Har. So nere our presence? dare they be so bold? And will prowd warre, and eager thirst of bloud, Whom we had thought to entertaine farre off, Presse forth vpon vs in our natiue boundes? Must wee be forc't to hansell our sharp blades In England here, which we prepar'd for France Well, a Gods name be it, what's their number? fay, Or who's the chiefe commander of this rowt? Hunt. Their number is not knowne, as yet (my Lord) But its reported Sir Iohn Old-castle Is the chiefe man, on whom they do depend. Har. How, the Lord Cobham? Hunt. Yes my gracious Lord. Bish. I could have told your maiestie as much Before he went but that I faw your Grace Was too much blinded by his flaterie. Suf. Send poalt my Lord to fetch him backe againe. But. Traitor vinto his country, how he smooth'de, And seemde as innocent as Truthit selfe? Har. I cannot thinke it yet, he would be false,

But if he be no matter let him go,

Weele meet both him and them ynto their wo.

Bishop

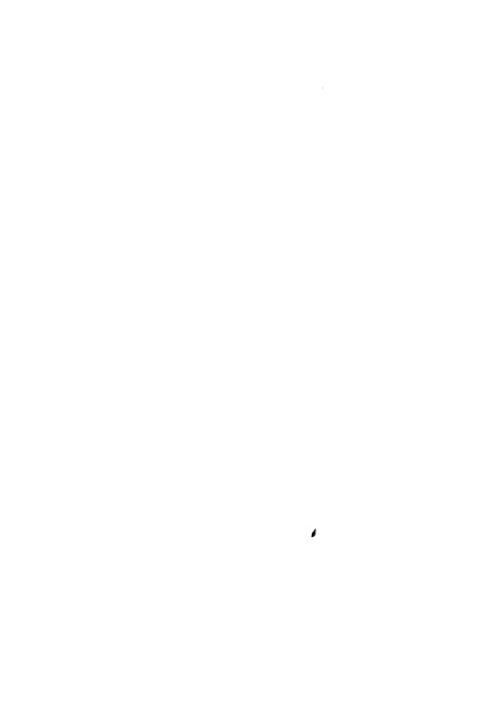

E1/3. This falls out well, and at the last I hope Execut
To see this horetike die in a rope.

Enter Earle of Cambridge, Lord Scroope, Gray, and Charires the French fallor.

How you do stand initicled to the Crowne,
The deeper shall we print it in our mindes,
And enery man the better be resolute,

When he perceives his quarrell to be iust. Cam. Then thus Lord Scroope, fir Thomas Gray, & you Mounsieur de Chartres, agent for the French, This Lionell Duke of Clarence, as I faid, Third sonne of Edward (Englands King) the third Hadissue Philliphis sole daughter and heyre, Which Phillip afterward was given in marriage, To Edmund Mortimer the Earle of March, And by him had a fon cald Roger Mortimer, Which Roger likewise had of his discent, Edmund, Roger, Anne, and Elianor, Two daughters and two fonnes, but those three Dide without iffue, Anne that did furuiue, And now was left her fathers onely heyre, My fortune was to marry, being too By my grandfather of King Edwardes line, So of his firname, I am calde you know, Richard Plantagenet, my father was, Edward the Duke of Yorke, and son and heyre To Edmund Langley, Edward the third's first sonne. Scroop So that it feemes your claime comes by your wife, Aslawfull heyre to Roger Mortimes The fon of Edmund, which did marry Phillip Daughter and heyre to Lyonell Duke of Clarence. Cam. True, for this Harry, and his father both Harry the first, as plainely doth appeare, Are false intruders, and vsurp the Crowne, For when yong Richard was at Pomfret flaine,

sir Iohn Old-castle.

In him the title of prince Edward dide, That was the eldert of king Edwards fonnes: William of Hatfield, and their second brother. Death in his nonage had before bereft: So that my wife deriu'd from Lionell, Third fonne vnto king Edward, ought proceede, And take possession of the Diademe Before this Harry, or his father king, Who fetchttheir title but from Lancaster, Forth of that royall line. And being thus, Whatreafon ist but she should have her right? Scroope I am resolu'de our enterprise is iust. Gray Harry shall die, or else resigne his crowne. Chart. Performe but that, and Charles the king of France Shall ayde you lordes, not onely with his men. But fend you money to maintaine your warres, Fine hundred thousand crownes he bade me proffer, If you can stop but Harries voyage for France. Scrope We neuer had a fitter time than now The realme in such division as it is.

Camb. Befides, you must perswade ye there is due, Vengeance for Richards murder, which although It be deferred, yet will it fall at last,

And now as likely as another time. Sinne hath had many yeeres to ripen in,

And now the haruest cannot be farre off, Wherein the weedes of vsurpation,

Are to be cropt, and cast into the fire.

Scroope No more earle Cambridge, here I plight my faith, To fet vp thee, and thy renowned wife.

Gray Gray will performe the same, as he is knight.

Chart. And to affift ye, as I faid before, Charters doth gage the honor of his king.

Scroope Welacke but now Lord Cobhams fellowship,

And then our plot were absolute indeede.

Camb. Doubt not of hun, my lord, his life's pursu'de

•

Ey thincenfed Cleargy, and of late, Frought in displeasure with the king, assures He may be quickly wonne vnto our faction. Who hath the articles were drawne at large Of our whole purpose?

Gray That have Imy Lord.

Camb. We should not now be farre off from his house,
Our serious conference hath beguild the way,
See where his castle stands, give me the writing.
When we are come vnto the speech of him,
Because we will not stand to make recount,
Of that which hath beene saide, here he shall reade enter Cob.
Our mindes at large, and what we crave of him.

Scroope Aread, way: here comes the man himfelfe Booted and spured, it seemes he hath beene riding.

Camb. VVell met lord Cobham.

Cobh. My lord of Cambridge?
Your honor is most welcome into Kent,
And all the rest of this faire company.
I am new come from London, gentle Lordes:
But will ye not take Cowling for your host,
And see what entertainement it affordes?

Camb. We were intended to have beene your gueffs: But now this lucky meeting thall suffice

To end our businesse, and deferre that kindnesse.

(oth. Businesse my lord; what businesse should you have But to be mery? we have no delicates, But this lle promise you, a peece of venison, A cup of wine, and so forth: hunters fare:

And if you please, weele strike the stagge our selues Shall fill our dithes with his wel-fed fiesh.

Scroope That is indeede the thing we all defire.

Cibh. Mylordes and you shall have your choice with me.

Camb. Nav but the stagge which we defire to sinke.

Liues not in Cowling: if you will confent, And goe with vs, week bring you to a forrest, where

sir Fobn Old-castle.

Where runnes a lufty hierd: amongst the which There is a stagge superior to the rest, A (tately beatt, that when his fellows runne, He leades the race, and beates the fullen earth, As though he scorndit with his trampling hoofes, Aloft he beares his head, and with his breaft, Like a huge bulwarke counter-checkes the wind: And when he standeth still, he Aretcheth forth His prowd ambitious necke, as if he meant To wound the firmament with forked hornes. Cobh. Tis pitty fuch a goodly beaft should die. Camb. Not fo, sir Iohn, for he is tyrannous, And gores the other deere, and will not keep Within the limites are appointed hun. Of late hees broke into a scueral, Which doth belong to me, and there he spoiles Both come and pasture, two of his wilderace Alike for stealth, and couetous incroatching, Already are remou'd, if he were dead, I should not onely be secure from hurt, But with his body make a royall feaft. Scroope How fay you then, will you first hunt with vs? Cobb. Faith Lords, I like the pattime, where's the place? Camb. Peruse this writing, it will shew you all, And what occasion we have for the sport. be reades Cobb. Call ye this hunting my lords? Is this the stage You faine would chase, Harry our dread king? So we may make a banquet for the diuell, And in the steede of wholsome meate, prepare A dith of poison to confound our selues. Camb. Why to lord Cobham? fee you not our claime? And how imperioufly he holdes the crowne? Scroope Relides, you know your felfe is in difgrace, Held as a recreant, and pursude to death. This will defend you from your enemies, And flablith your religion through the land.

Cob.

Cobb Notorious treason! yet I will conceale aside My fecret thoughts, to found the depth of it. My lord of Cambridge, I doe fee your claime, And what good may redound vnto the land, By profecuting of this enterprife. But where are men? where's power and furniture To order fuch an action? we are weake, Harry, you know's a mighty potentate. Camb. Tur, we are strong enough, you are belou'de, And many will be glad to follow you, V Ve are the light, and some will follow vs: Belides, there is hope from France: heres an emballador That promifeth both men and money too. The commons likewise (as we heare) pretend A fodaine tumult, we will joyne with them Cabb. Some likelihoode, I must confesse, to speede: Put how shall I beleeve this is plaine truth? You are (my lords) fuch men as liue in Court, And highly have beene favour'd of the king, Especially lord Scroope, whome oftentimes He maketh choice of for his bedfellow. And you lord Gray are of his priny councell: Is not this a traine to intrappe my life? Camb. Then perish may my soule: what thinke you so? Scroope V Veclesweare to you. Gray Or take the facrament. Cobh. Nay you are noble men, and I imagine, As you are honorable by birth and bloud, So you will be in heart, in thought, in word. I craue no other testimony but this. That you would all subscribe, and set your hands Vnto this writing which you gave to me. Camb. VVith all our hearts; who hath any pen and inke? Scroope My pocket should have one: yea, heere it is.

Camb. Giue it me lord Scroope: there is my name.

Greg

Scroope And there is my name.

sir Iohn Old-castle

Gray And mine. Cobb. Sir, let me craue, That you would likewife write your name with theirs, For confirmation of your mailters word, The king of Fraunce. Char. That will I noble Lord. Cobb. So now this action is well knit together, And I am for you: where's our meeting, lorde Camb. Here if you please, the tenth of July next. Cobh. In Kent?agreed: now let vs in to supper, I hope your honors will not away to night. Camb. Yes presently, for I have farre to ride, About folliciting of other friends. Scroope And we would not be absent from the court, Lest thereby grow suspition in the king. Cobb. Yet taste a cup of wine before ye go. Camb. Not now my lord, we thanke you: so farewell. Cob. Farewell my noble lordes: my noble lords? My noble villeines, base conspirators, How can they looke his Highnessein the face, Whome they so closly study to betray? But ile not fleepe vntill I make it knowne. This head shall not be burdned with such thoughts, Nor in this heart will I conceale a deede Of fuch impletie against my king. Madam, how now? Enter Harpoole and the rest. Lady cobh. You are welcome home, my Lord, Why feeme ye fo disquiet in your lookes? What hath befalne you that disquiets your minde? Lady Po. Bad newes I am afraide touching my husband. Cobh. Madam, not so: there is your husbands pardon, Long may ye liue, each joy vnto the other.

Ponesse So great a kindnesse I knowe not howe to make

With

Cohb. Let that alone: and madam stay me not, reply, my fenfe is quite confounded.

For I must backe vnto the court againe

With all the speede I can: Harpoole, my house.

Laty Cob. So soone my Lord? what will you ride all night? Cobham All night or day it must be so, sweete wife,

Vrge me notwhy, or what my businesse is; But get you in: Lord Powelle, beare with me,

And madam, thinke your welcome nere the worfe:

My house is at your vie. Harpoo e, away.

Harp. Shall I attend your lordthip to the court?

Cobb. Yea fir, your gelding, mount you prefently exe Lady Cobb. I prythee Harpoole, looke vnto thy Lord,

I do not like this lodaine polling backe.

Powe Some earnest businesse is a foote belike, Whate re it be, pray God be his good guide.

Ludy Po. Amen that hath to highly vs bested.

Laay Co. Come madam, and my lord, weele hope the beft,

You thall not into Wales till he returne.

*Poweffe Though great occasion be we should departe, yet madam will we stay to be resolute, of this violooks for doubiful accident.

Exempt.

Enser Murley and his men, prepared in some filthy order for marre.

Mury. Come my hearts of flint, modelly, decently, foberly, and handformly, no man afore his Leader, follow your mafter, your Captaine, your Knight that shallbe, for the honor of Meale-inen, Millers, and Mault-men dunne is the mowse, Dicke and Tom for the credite of Dunstable, ding downe the enemie to morrow, ye shall not come into the field like beggars, where be I conard and Laurence my two loaders, Lord haue mercie vpon vs, what a world is this? I would give a couple of shillings for a dozen of good sethers for ye, and forty pence for as many skatsses to set ye out withall, frost and snow, a man has no heart to sight till he be braue.

Dicke Master I hopewebe no babes, for our manhood, counbucklers, and our towns foote balls can be are winteffer and this lite partell we have shall off, and weel fight maked as fore we runne away.

Tom. Nay, I am of Laurence mind for that, for he meanes

sir fohn Old-castle.

to leave his life behind him, he and Leonard your two loaders are making their wills because they have wives, now we Bachellers bid our friends scramble for our goods if we die: but master, pray ye let me tide vpon Cutte.

Murly Meale and falt, wheat and mault fire and tow, frost and snow, why Tom thou shalt let me see, here are you, William and George are with my cart, and Robin and Hodge holding my owne two horses, proper men, handsom men, tall men, true men.

Dicke But master, master, me thinkes you are a mad man, to hazard your owne person and a cart load of money too.

Tom. Yea, and maister theres a worse matter in t, if it be as I heard say, we go to fight against all the learned Bishops, that should give ve their blessing, and if they curse ve, we shall speede nere the better.

Dicke Nav bir lady, some say the King takes their part, and mafter, dare you fight against the King?

Murly Fie pality, pality in and out to and fro vpon occafion, if the King be so viwise to come there, weele fight with him too.

Tom. What if ye should kill the King? Mur. Then weele make another.

Dicke Is that all, do ye not speake treason?

Mur. If we do, who dare trippevs? we come to fight for our conscience, and for honor, little know you what is in my bosome looke heremadde knaues, a paire of guilt spurres.

Tom. A paire of golden spurres? why do you not put them on your heeles? your bosome's no place for spurres.

Mur. Bee't more or lesse von occasion, Lord have mercy vs, Tom th'arta foole, and thou speakest treason to knight-hood, dare any weare golden or silver spurs til ne be a knighteno, I shall be knighted to morrow, and then they shall on sirs, was it ever read in the church booke of Dunstable, that ever mault man was made knight?

Tom. No but you are more, you are meal-man, maultman, miller, corne-master and all.

Dicke Yea, and halfe a brewer too, and the diuell and all forwealth, you bring more money with you, than all the rest.

Mur. The more's my honor, I shal be a knight to morow, let me spose my men, Tom vpon cutte, Dicke vpon hobbe, Hodge vpon Ball, Raph vpon Sorell, and Robin vpon the forehorse.

Enter Acton, Bourne, and Benerley.

Tom. Stand, who comes there?

Act. Alfriends, good fellow.

Murl. Friends and fellowes indeede sir Roger.

Aft. Why thus you flew your felfea Gentleman, To keepe your day, and come so well preparde, Your cart stands yonder, guarded by your men, Who tell me it is loaden well with come,

What summe is there?

Mur. Tenthousand pound fir Roger, and modestly, decently, soberly, and handsomely, see what I have here against I be knighted.

All. Gilt spurs?tis well.

- Mur. Put where's our armie sir?

AEI. Disperst in fundry villages about,
Some here with vs in Hygate, some at Finchley,
Totnam, Enfield, Edmunton, Newington,
Islington, Hogsdon, Pancredge, Kenzington,
Some neerer Thames, Ratcliffe, Blackwall and Bow,
But our chiefe strength must be the Londoners,
Which ere the Suone to morrow shine,
Will be nere fiftie thousand in the field.

Mur. Mary God dild ve daintie my deere, but vpon occalion fir Roger Action, deth not the King know of it, and gather his power against vs.

All. No, hee's secure at Eltham.
What do the Cleargie?

All. Feare extreamly, yet prepare no force.

Mur. In and out, to and fro, Pullie my boikin, we shall carry

sir fobn Old-castle.

carry the worldafore vs, I vow by my worthippe, when I am knighted, weele take the King napping, if he stand on their part.

Ad. This macht we few in Higate will repofe, With the first cocke weele rife and arme our selues, To be in Ficket fielde by breake of day, And there expect our Generall.

Mar. Sir Old-castle, what if he come not Iohn?

Bourne Yet our action stands,

Sir Roger Acton may Supple his place.

True M. Bourne but who shall make me knight?

Bener. He that hath power to be our Generall.

All. Talke not of trifles, rome let's away, Our friends of London long till it be day.

of London long till it be day. éxèmn: Enter sir Iohn of Wroothamund Doll.

Doll. By my troth, thou art as ieleus a man as lines.

Priest Cant thou blame me Doll, thou art my fands, my goods, my iewels, my wealth, my pure, no walks within forty miles of London, but a plies thee us truely, as the parall does the poore mans boxe.

Doll I am astructo thee, as the fronc's in the wal, and thou knowest well enough fir Rohin, I was in as good doing, which I came to thee, as any wentch herede to be : and therefore thou hast tried me that thou hast : by Gods body, I wil not be kept as I have bin, that I will not.

Priest Doll, if this blade holde; there not a pedler walkes with a pack, but thou shalt as boldly thuse of his wares, as with thy ready mony in a Marchants shop, weede have as good siluer as the King coynes any.

Doll What is al the gold spent you tooke the last day from the Courtier?

Priest Tis gone Dollstis flowing merely come, merely gon; he comes a horse backe that must pay for all; week haut as good meate, as mony can get, and as good gownes; as can be bought for gold, be mery wench; the mault-man comes on munday.

F

D. WYou might have left me at Cobham, vntil you had bin better provided for.

Priest. No sweet Dol, no, I do not like that, youd old ruffian is not for the priest, I do not like a new cleark should come in the old bel-frie.

Doll Ahthou art a mad priest yfaith.

Priest Come Doll, le see thee safe at some alchouse here at Cray, and the next sheepe that comes shall leave his sleece.

Enter the King, Suffolke and Butler. King in great hast. My lord of Suffolk, poste away for life, And let our forces of such horse and soote, As can be gathered up by any meanes, Make speedy randeuow in Tuttle fields. It must be done this evening my Lord. This night the rebells meane to draw to head Neere Illington, which if your speede preuent not, If once they should vnite their seuerall forces, Their power is almost thought inuincible, Away my Lord I will be with you foone. . Suf. I go my Soueraigne with all happies peede. King Make hafte my lord of Suffolke as you loue vs, Butler, poste you to London with all speede. Commaund the Maior, and shrieues, on their alegiance, The cittle gates be presently shut vp, And guarded with a strong sufficient watch, And not a man be fuffered to passe, Without a speciall warrant from our selfe. Command the Posterne by the Tower be kept, And proclamation on the paine of death, That not a citizen stirre from his doores, Except fuch as the Major and Shrieues shall chuse. For their owne guarde, and fafety of their persons, Butler away, have care vuto my charge. But. I goe my Soucraigne.

King Butler.

sir Iohn Old-castle.

But. My Lord.

King Goe downe by Greenewich, and command a boate, At the Friers bridge attend my comming downe.

But. I will my Lord. exit

King It's time I thinke to looke vnto rebellion, When Acton doth expect vnto his ayd,

No lesse then fiftie thousand Londoners,

Well, Ile to Westminster in this disguise,

To heare what newes is stirring in these brawles.

Enter sir lohn.

Sir Iohn Stand true-man faies a thiefe.

King Stand thiefe, saies a true man, how if a thiefe?

Sir Iohn Stand thiefe too.

King Then thiefe or true-man I fee I must stand, I fee how soeuer the world wagges, the trade of theeuing yet will neuer downe, what art thou?

fir Iohn A good fellow.

King So am I too, I fee thou doll know me.

fir John. If thou be a good fellow, play the good fellowes part, deliuer thy purse without more adoe.

King I have no mony.

fir John I must make you find some before we part, if you have no mony you shal have ware, as many sound drie blows as your skin can carrie.

King Is that the plaine truth?

fir John Sirrano more adoe, come, come, give me the mony

you have, dispatch, I cannot stand all day.

King Wel, if thou wilt needs have it, there tis: inft the proverb, one thiefe robs another, where the divel are all my old the cues, that were wont to keepe this walke? Falltaffethe villaine is so fat, he cannot get on's horse, but me thinkes Poines and Peto should be stirring here abouts.

fir John How much is there on't of thy word?

King A hundred pound in Angels, on my word,

The time has beene I would have done as much

For thee, if thou hadft past this way, as I have now.

fir.lohn Sirra, what art thou, thou feem'st a gendemane King I am no lesse, yet a poore one now, for thou hast all my mony.

fir Iohn From whence cam'st thou?
King From the court at Etham.

fir lobn Art thou one of the Kings feruants

King Yes that I am, and one of his chamber.

fir John I am glad thou art no worfe, thou maift the better fpare thy mony, & thinkft thou thou mightift get a poor thicfe his pardon if he should have neede.

King. Yes that I can.

fir Iohn Wilt thou do so much for me, when I shall haue occasion?

King Yesfaith will I fo it be for no murther.

fir lobs Nay, I am a pittifull thiefe, all the hurt I do a man, I takebut his purfe, Ile kill man.

King Then of my word He do it.
fir Iohn Giue me thy hand of the fame.

King There tis.

fir John Me thinks the King should be good to theeues, because he has bin a thiefe himselfe, though I thinke now he becaused true-man.

King Faith I have heard indeed he has had an il name that way in his youth, but how canst thou tell he has beene a thiese?

fir Iohn How? because he once robde me before I fell to the trade my selfe, when that foule villainous guts, that led him to all that rogery, was in's company there, that Falsasse.

King afide. Well if he did rob thee then, thou are but even with him now lie be sworne, thou knowest not the king now, I thinke, if thou sawest him?

fir Iohn Not I yfaith,

King afide. So it should feeme.

fir lohn Well, if old King Henry had hin'de, this King that is now, had made theeuing the best trade in England.

King

fir fobn Old-castle.

King Why fo?

fir John Because he was the chiefewarden of our company, it's pittie that ere he should have bin a King, he was so braue a thiefe, but sirra, wilt remember my pardon if ucede he?

King Yes faith will I.

fir John Wilt thou? well then because thou shalt go safe, for thou mayest hap (being so earely) be met with againe, before thou come to Southwarke, if any man when he should bid thee good morrow, bid thee stand, say thou but sir John, and he will let thee passe.

King Is that the word? well then let me a alone.

fir John Nay firra, because I thinke indeede I shall have some occasion to vie thee, & as thou could oft this way, I may light on thee another time not knowing thee, here, ile breake this Angell, take thou halfe of it, this is a token betwixt thee and me.

King. God haue mercy, farewell.

fir Ishn O my fine golden flaues, heres for thee wench yfaith, now Dol, we wil reuel in our beuer this is a tyth pigge of my vicaridge, God haue mercy neighbour Shooters hill, you paid your tyth honeftly. Wel I heare there is a company of rebelles vp against the King, got together in Fickle field neere Holborne, and as it is thought here in Kenr, the King will be there to night in's owne person, well ile to the Kings camp, and it shall go hard, but if there be any doings, Ile make some good boote amongst them.

Enter King Henry, Suffolke, Huntington, and two with lights.

K.Hen. My Lords of Suffolke and of Huntington, Who skouts it now? or who stands Sentinells? What men of worth? what Lords do walke the round? Suff. May it please your Highnesse. K.Hen. Peace, no more of that, The King's afleepe, wake not his maiestie,

F3

With termes nor titles, hee's at rest in bed, Kings do not vie to watch themselues, they sleepe, And let rebellion and conspiracie, Reueland hauocke in the common wealth, Is London lookt vnto?

Hunt. It is my Lord,

Your noble Vncle Exceter is there, Your brother Gloucester and my Lord of Warwicke, Who with the major and the Aldermen, Do guard the gates, and keepe good rule within, The Earle of Cambridge, and fir Thomas Gray, Do walke the Round, Lord Scroope and Butler skout, So though it please your maiestie to iest,

Were you in bed, well might you take your rest,

K.Hen. I thank ye Lords, but you do know of old, That I have bin a perfect night-walker, London you say is safely lookt vnto, Alas poore rebels, there your ayd must faile, And the Lord Cobham fir Iohn Old-castle, Hee's quiet in Kent, Acton ye are deceiu'd, Reckon againe, you count without your hoft, To morrow you shall give account to vs, Til when my friends, this long cold winters night, How can we spend? King Harry is a sleepe, And al his Lords, these garments tel vs so, Al friends at footebal, fellowes all in field, Harry, and Dicke, and George, bring vs a drumme, Giue vs square dice, weele keepe this court of guard, For al good fellowes companies that come. Wheres that mad priest ye told me was in Armes, To fight, as well as pray, if neede required?

Suff. Hees in the Camp, and if he knew of this, I vndertake he would not be long hence.

Har. Trippe Dicke, Trippe George. Hunt. I must have the dice,

What do we play at?

the play at dice.

they trippe.

sir Iobn Old-castle

Suff. Passage if ye please. Hunt. Set round then, so, at all.

Har. George, you are out.

Giue me the dice, I passe for twentie pound, Heres to our luckie passage into France.

Hunt. Harry you passe indeede for you sweepe all.
Suff. A figne king Harry shalfweep al in France. ent. sir Iohn fir Iohn Edge ye good fellowes, take a fresh gamster in.

Har. Master Parson: we play nothing but gold: fir Iohn. And fellow, I tel thee that the priest hath gold, gold: sbloud ye are but beggerly souldiers to me, I thinke I have more gold than all you three.

Hunt. It may be so, but we beleeve it not. Har. Set priest set, I passe for all that gold.

fir Iohn Ye passe indeede.

Harry Priest, hastethou any more?
for John Zounds what a question's that?
I tell thee I have more then all you three,
At these ten Angells.

Harry. I wonder how thou comst by all this gold,

How many benefices half thou prieft?

for Iohn Yfaith but one, dolf wonder how I come by gold? I wonder rather how poore fouldiers should have gold, for Ile tell thee good fellow, we have every day tythes, offerings, christnings, weddings, burialls: and you poore snakes come seldome to a boote. Ile speake a prowd word, I have but one parsonage, Wrootham, tis better than the Bishopprick of Rochester, there snake a hill, heath, nor downe in all Kent, but tis in my parish, Barrham downe, Chobham downe, Gads hill, Wrootham hill, Blacke heath, Cockes heath, Birchen wood, all pay me tythe, gold quoth at ye passe not for that.

Suff. Harry ye are out, now parfon shake the dice. fir Iohn. Set, set Ile couer ye, at al; A plague on't I am out, the diuell, and dice, and a wench, who will trust them?

Suff. Sailt thoù so priest? set faire, at all for once.

Har. Out sir, pay all.

sir Iohn

fir Iohn Sbloud pay me angel gold, Ile none of your crackt French crownes not piffoless, Pay me faire angel gold, as I pay you.

Har. No crackt french crownes? I hope to lee more crackt french crownes ere long.

fir tohn Thou meanest of French ittens, crownes when the King is in France.

Hum. Set round, at all.

fir Ihon Payall : this is forme hicke.

Har. Gide ine the dice, tis I malt thread the pricit:

Atal fir Polin.

fir Iohn The diuell and all is yours: at that: Ideath; white casting is this?

Suff. Well throwne Harry yfaith.

Har. Ile cast better yet.

for John Then lie be hanged. Sura, half thou not given thy

Har. I passe for alk fir John Thou pallest all that ere I playde withall:

Sirra, do fi thou hot togge, hot folft, hot fluire?

Har. Set parfon, let, the dice die in my hand:

When parfon, when! what can be finde no more?

Attended the want you braged of your flore?

for This Alls gone but that.

Hune. What halfe a broken angell fir then Why fir, us gold. Har: Yes and He couch it.

for then The divell do ye good on t, I am blinde, yee have blowne me vp.

His. Nay tarry priest, ye shall not leave vs yet,

Do not thefe peeces fit each other well!

fir Ibon What if they do?
Ha: Thereby beginnes a tale:

There was a thiefe, in face thinch like it folin, But t'was not hee, that thiefe was all in greene, Met me last day on Blacke Heath, neede the parke,

with

sir fobn Old-castle.

With him a woman, I was al alone, And weaponleffe, my boy had all my tooles, And was before prouiding me a boate: Short tale to make, fir lohn, the thiefe I meane. Tooke a just hundreth poundingold from me. I storm'd at it, and swore to be reveng de If ere we met, he like a lufty thiefe, Brake with his teeth this Angeliust in two, To be a token at our meeting next, Prouided, I should charge no Officer To apprehend him, but at weapons point Recover that, and what he had belide. Well met fir Iohn, betake ye to your tooles By torch light, for master parson you are he That had my gold.

fir John Zounds I won't in play, in faire square play of the keeper of Ekham parke, and that I will maintaine with this poore whinyard, be you two honest men to stand and looke vpon's, and let's alone, and take neither part.

Har. A greede, I charge ye do not boudge a foot, Sir Iohn haue at ye.

fir Iohn Souldier ware your skonce.

Here as they are ready to strike, enter Butler and drawes his weapon and steps betwixt them.

But. Hold villaines hold, my Lords, what do ye meane, To see a traitor draw against the King? fir lobn The Kingl Gods wil, I am in a proper pickle.

Har. Butler what newes? why doft thou trouble vs? But. Please it your Highnesse, it is breake of day,

And as I skouted neere to Islington, The gray cy'd morning gaue me glimmering, Of anned men comming downe Hygate hill, Who by their course are coasting hitherward.

Har. Let vs withdraw, my Lords, prepare our troopes, To charge the rebels, if there be such cause, For this lewd prich this dinekith hypocrite,

That

That is a thiefe, a gamfter, and what not, Let him be hang d vp for example fake.

for John Not so my gracious soueraigne, I confesse I am a frayle man, flesh and bloud as other are: but set my imperfestions aside, by this light ye have not a taller man, nor a truer sub-icst to the Crowne and State, than fir John of V Vrootham.

Hur. Wil atrue subject robbe his King?

fir I.hn Alastwasignorance and want; my gracious liege.

Har. T was want of grace: why, you should be as falt
To season others with good document,
Your lives as lampes to give the people light.
As shepheards, not as wolves to spoile the flock,
Go hang hm Butler.

But. Didft thou notrobme?

fir Iohn I must confesse I saw some of your gold, but my dread Lord, I am in no humor for death, therfore saue my life, God will that sinners live, do not you cause me die, once in their lives the best may goe aftray, and if the world say true, your selfe (my liege) have bin a thiefe.

Har. I confesse I haue,

But I repent and have reclaimed my felfe.

fir Iohn So will I do if you will give me time.

Har. Wilt thou? my lords, will you be his fuerties?

Hunt. That when he robs againe, he shall be hang d.

fir Icha I aske no more.

Har. And we will grant thee that,
Liue and repent, and proue an honest man,
Which when I heare, and safe returns from France,
Ile give thee living, till when take thy gold,
But spendit better then at cards or wine,
For better vertues fit that coate of thine.

fir Io'n Vinet Rex & carrat lex, my liege, if ye have cause of battell, ye shallce sir Iohn of Wrootham bestime himself in your quarrel.

After an alaxumenter Harry, Suffolk, Humington, fir Iohn, bringung forth Allon, Beuerly, and Murley prijoners. Han

sir Iohn Old-castle.

Har. Bring in those traitors, whose aspiring minds, Thought to have triumpht in our overthrow, But now ye see, base villaines, what successed Attends ill actions wrongfully attempted. Sir Roger Acton, thou retainst the name Ofknight, and shoulds be be be discretly tempered, Than ioyne with peasants, gentry is duine, But thou hast made it more then popular.

Act. Pardon my Lord, my conscience vrg'd me to it,
Har. Thy conscience then thy conscience is corrupt;
For in thy conscience thou art bound to vs,
And in thy conscience thou shouldst loue thy country,
Else what's the difference twist a Christian,

And the vacuuil manners of the Turke?

Bener. We meant no hurt vato your maiesty,

But reformation of Religion.

Har. Reforme Religion?was it that ye fought?

I pray who gaue you that authority?
Belike then we do hold the scepter vp,
And sit within the throne but for a cipher,
Time was, good subjects would make knowne their griese,
And pray amendment, not inforce the same,
Vulesse their King were tyrant, which I hope
You cannot justly say that Harry is,
What is that other?

Suff. A mault-man my Lord, And dwelling in Dunstable as he faies.

Hari Sirra what made you leave your barly broth,

To come in armour thus against your King?

Mur. Fie paltry, paltry to and fro, in and out vpon occasion, what a worlde's this? knight-hood (my liege) twas knight-hood brought me hither, they told me I had wealth enough to make my wife a lady.

Har. And so you brought those horses which we saw, Trapt all in cossly furniture, and meant To weare these spurs when you were knighted once.

G-2

Mur.

Mur. In and out vport occasion I did.

Har. In and our vppon occasion, therefore you shall be hang'd and in the sted of wearing these spurres vpon your heeles, about your necke they shall bewray your folly to the world.

fir Iohn In and out vpon ocasion, that goes hard.

Mur Fie paltry paltry, to and fro. good my liege a pardon, I am fory for my fault.

Har. That comes too late: but tell me, went there none Befide fir Roger Acton, ypon whom

You did depend to be your governour?

Mar. None none my Lord, but fir Iohn Old-caftle.

Har. Beares he part in this conspiracie. enter Bill

All. We lookt my Lord that he would meet vs kere.

Har. But did he promise you that he would come.

All. Such letters we received forth of Kent.

Bifs. Where is my Lord the King? health to your grace, Examining my Lord fome of these cattine rebels.

Examining my Lord forme of these caitine rebels, It is a generall voyce amongst them all, That they had neuer come vinto this place, But to have met their valiant general, The good Lord Cobham as they tide him, Whereby, my Lord, your grace may now perceine, His treason is apparant, which before He sought to colour by his flattery.

Har. Now by my rotaltie I would have fworne; But for his confcience, which I beare withali, There had not liude a more true hearted subject.

And therefore may it please your maiestie,
To set your hand vato this precept here,
By which west cause him forthwith to appeare,
And answer this by order of the law.

Her. Bilhop, not only that, but take commission, To search, attach, imprison, and condemne, This most not prices trainer as your pleases.

sur John Old-castle.

Bif. It shall be done, my Lord, without delay: So now I hold Lord Cobham in my hand, That which shall finish thy distained life.

Har. I thinke the yron age begins but now,
(Which learned poets have so often taught)
Wherein there is no credit to be given,
To either wordes, or lookes, or solemne oathes,
For if there were, how often hath he sworne,
How gently tun de the musicke of his tongue,
And with what amable face beheld he me,
When all, God knowes, was but hypocrisie. enter Cobham.

Cob. Long life and prosperous raigne vnto my Lord. Har. Ah villaine, canst thou wish prosperitie,

Whose heart includeth naught but treacheries
I do arrest thee here my selfe, false knight,
Oftreason capitall against the state.

Cob. Of treason mightie prince, your grace mistakes,

I hope it is but in the way of mirth.

Har. Thy necke shall feele it is in earnest shortly,
Darst thou intrude into our presence, knowing
How haynously thou hast offended vs?
But this is thy accustomed deceit,
Now thou perceiust thy purpose is in vaine,
With some excuse or other thou wilt come,
To cleere thy selfe of this rebellion.

Cob. Rebellion good my Lord, I know of none.

Har. If you deny it, here is euidence, See you these men, you neuer councelled, Nor offerd them assistance in their warres

Cob. Speakefirs, not one but all, I craue no fauour, Haue euer I beene conuerfant with you,
Or written letters to incourage you,
Or kindled but the least or smallest part,
Of this your late vnnatural rebelliont
Speake for I dare the vnermost you can.

Mur, In and out vpon occasion I know you not.

Har.

Her. No, didt not fay that fir Iohn Old-caftle, Was one with whom you purposed to have met? Mur. True, I did say to, but in what respect?

Because I heard it was reported so.

Har. Was there no other argument but that?

All. To cleere my conficience ere I die my lord,
I must confesse, we have no other ground
But only Rumor, to accuse this lord,
Which now I see was merely fabulous.

Har. The more pernitious you to taint him thea, Whome you knew not was faulty yea or no.

Cobb. Let this my Lord, which I present your grace

Speake for my loyalty, reade these articles, And then give sentence of my life or death.

Har. Earle Cambridge, Scroope, and Gray corrupted With bribes from Charles of France, either to winne My Crowne from me, or fecretly contriue My death by treason? Is this possible?

Cobh. There is the platforme, and their hands, my lord,

Each seuerally subscribed to the same.

Har. Oh neuer heard of base ingratitude!
Euenthose I hugge within my bosome most,
Are readiest cuermore to sting my heart.
Pardon me Cobham, I haue done thee wrong,
Heereaster I will liue to make amends.
Is then their time of meeting so neere hand?
Weele meete with them, but little for their ease,
If God permit: goe take these rebells hence,
Let them haue martiall law: but as for thee,
Friend to thy king and country, still be free.

Murl. Be it more or leffe, what a world is this?
Would I had continued ftill of the order of knaues,
And neuer fought knighthood, fince it coftes
So deere: fir Roger, I may thanke you for all.

Acton Now tis too late to haue it remedied, I prithee Murley doe not vrge me with it.

Hunt.

sir Iohn Old-castle

Hunt. Will you away, and make no more to do? Murl. Fy paltry paltry, to and fro, as occasion ferues, If you be so hasty take my place. Hunt. No good fir knight, you shall begin in your hand.

Murl. I could be glad to give my betters place. Exeunt.

Enter Bishop, lord Warden, Croamer the Shriene, Lady Cob. and attendants.

Bishop I tell ye Lady, its not possible But you should know where he conucies himselfe, And you have hid him in some secret place. Lady My Lord, beleeue me, as I have a foule, I know not where my lord my husband is.

Bishop. Go to, go to, ye are an heretike, And will be forc'de by torture to confesse, If faire meanes will not serue to make ye tell.

Lady My husband is a noble gentleman, And neede not hide hunselfe for anie fact That ere I heard of, therefore wrong him not. Biftop Your husband is a dangerous schismaticke, Traitor to God, the King, and common wealth, And thererefore master Croamer shrieue of Kent, I charge you take her to your custodie, And ceaze the goods of Sir Iohn Old-caftle To the Kings vse, let her go in no more, To fetch so much as her apparell out, There is your warrant from his maiestie.

L. War. Good my Lord Bishop pacific your wrath Against the Lady.

Bis. Then let her confesse

Where Old-castle her husband is conceald.

L.War. I dare engage mine honor and my life. Poore gentlewoman, the is ignorant, And innocent of all his practices,

If any euill by him be practifed.

Bish. If my Lord Warden!nay then I charge you,

That

That all the cinque Ports whereof you are chiefs, Belaid forthwith, that he escape vs not,

Shew him his highnesse warrant M.Shrieue.

L. War. I am force for the noble gentleman, Enter Old ca-Bish. Peace, he comes here, now do your office. file & Harp. Old-cafile Harpoole what bufineffe haue we here in hand?  ${f V}{f V}$  hat makes the Bishop and the Shiriffe here, I feare my comming home is dangerous,

I would I had not made such haste to Cobham.

Harp. Fe of good cheere my Lord, if they before weele fcramble shrewdly with them, if they be friends they are welcome: one of them (my Lord Warden) is your friend, but me thinkes my ladie weepes, I like not that.

Croo. Sir John Old-castle Lord Cobham, in the Kings maiesties name, I arrest ve of high treason.

Oldea. Treason M. Croomes?

Harp. Treason M.Shrieue, sbloud what treason?

Oldea. Harpoole I charge thee stirre not, but be quiet still,

Do ye arrest me M. Shrieue for treason? Bib. Yea of high treason, traitor, heretike.

Oldea. Defiance in his face that calls me fo,

I am as true a lovall gentleman Vnto his highnesse, as my prowdest enemie, The King shall witnesse my late faithfull service,

For fafety of his facred maiestie.

Bif. VV hat thou art, the kings hand shall testifie,

Shewt him Lord Warden.

Old. Ielu defend me, Is tpossible your cunning could so temper The princely disposition of his mind, To figne the damage of a royall subject? Well, the best is, it beares an antedate, Procured by my absence, and your malice, But I, fince that, have shewd my selfe as true, As any churchman that dare challenge me, Let me be brought before his maiestie,

sir fohn Old-castle.

If he acquite me not, then do your worst.

Bif. We are not bound to do kind offices
For any traitor, schissnatike, nor heretike,
The kings hand is our warrant for our worke,
Who is departed on his way for France,
And at Southhampton doth repose this night.

Harp. O that it were the blessed will of God, that thou and I were within twenty mile of it, on Salisbury plaine! I would lose my head if ever thou broughtst thy head hither againe.

Olden. My Lord Warden o'th cinque Ports, & my Lord of Rochester, ye are joynt Commissioners, fauor me so much, Secretly whispers with him.

On my expence to bring me to the king.

Bish. What, to Southhampton?
Olden. Thither my god Lord,
And if he do not cleere me of al guilt,
And all suspition of conspiracie,
Pawning his princely warrant for my truth:
I aske no fauour, but extreamest torture.
Bring me, or send me to him, good my Lord,
Good my Lord Warden, M Shrieue, entreate.
Here the Lord Warden, and Cromer uncouer to the Bishop, and Come hither lady, nay, sweet wife forbeare,

To heape one forrow on anothers necke,
Tis griefe enough fallly to be accusse,
And not permitted to acquite my selfe,
Do not thou with thy kind respective teares,
Torment thy husbands heart that bleedes for thee,
But be of comfort, God bath help in store,
For those that put affured trust in him.
Deere wise, if they commit me to the Tower,
Come vp to London to your fisters house:
That being neere me, you may comfort me.
One solace find I selection my soule,

That I am free from treasons very thought,

Only my conscience for the Gospels sake, Is cause of all the troubles I sustaine.

Lidy. O my deere Lord, what shall be tide of vs? You to the Tower, and I turnd out of doores, Our substance ceaz'd vnto his highnesse vse, Euch to the garments longing to our backes. Harp. Patience good madame, things at worst will mend.

And if they doe not, yet our lives may end.

Biβ. Vrge it no more, for if an Angell spake, I fweare by fweet faint Peters blefled keyes, First goes he to the Tower, then to the stake.

Cram. But by your leave, this warrant doth not stretch

To imprison her.

Bishop No turne her out of doores, L.Warden and Euen as the is, and leade him to the Tower, Olicaftle whifter. With guard enough for feare of rescuing.

Lady O God requite thee thou bloud-thirsty man. Oldea. May it not be my Lord of Rochester?

Wherein haue I incurd your hate so farre, That my appeale viito the King's denide?

 $B_{i}/b$ . No hate of mine, but power of holy church,

Forbids all fauor to false heretikes.

Oldea. Your private malice more than publike power,

Strikes most at me, but with my life it ends.

Harp. O that I had the Bishop in that feare, aside That once I had his Summer by our felues.

Crom. My Lord yet graunt one fute vnto vs all, That this fame auncient feruing man may waite Vpon my lord his master in the Tower.

Bis. This old iniquitie this heretike? That in contempt of our church discipline, Compeld my Suniner to deuoure his processe! Old Ruffian past-grace, vpstart schismatike, Had not the King prayd vs to pardon ve, Ye had fryed for it, ve grizild heretike.

Harp. Sbloud my lord Bishop, ye do me wrong, I am neithe

sir Iohn Old-castle

ther heretike nor puritane, but of the old church, ile sweare, drinke ale kusse a wench, go to masse, eate fish all Lent, and fast fridaies with cakes and wine, fruite and spicerie, shriue me of my old sinnes afore Easter, and beginne new afore whitsoutide.

Crom. A merie mad conceited knaue my lord.

Harp. That knaue was simply put vpon the Bishop.

Bif. - VVel, God forgiue him and I pardon him.

Let him attend his master in the Tower,

For I in charity with his foule no hurt.

Older God bleffe my foule from fuch coid charitie,
Bif. Too'th Tower with him, and when my leifure ferues,
I will examine him of Articles,

Looke my lord Warden as you haue in charge,

The Shrive performe his office.

L. Ward. Yes my lord.

Enter the Summer with

Bish. VVhat bringst thou there? what? bookes of hereste.
Som. Yea my lord, heres not a latine booke,

No not fo much as our ladies Pfalter.

Heres the Bible, the testament, the Psalmes in meter,

The fickemans falue, the treafure of gladnesse,
And al in English, not so much but the Almanack's English.

Bis. Away with them, to'th fire with them Clun,

Now fie vpon these vpstart heretikes.

Al English, burne them, burne them quickly Clun.

Harp. But doe not Sumner as voule answere it, for I haue there Engl. sh bookes my lord, that ile not part with for your Bishoppricke, Beuis of Hampton, Owleglasse, the Frier and the Boy, Ellen of Rumming, Robin hood, and other such godly stories which if ye burne, by this sless ile make ye drink their ashes in S. Margets ale.

Enter the Bishop of R ochester with his men, in liverie coates.

T. Ser. Is it your honors pleasure we shal stay, Or come backe in the afternoone to fetch you.

Bis.

Bish. Now you have brought me heere into the Tower, You may go backe vinto the Porters Lodge, And fend for drinke or fuch things as you want, Where if I have occasion to imploy you, He fend fome officer to cal you to me. Into the cittle go not, I commaund you, Perhaps I may have prefent neede to vie you.

2 We will attend your worship here without.

Bish. Do so, I pray you.

3 Come, we may have a quart of wine at the Rofe at Barking, I warrant you, and come backe an hower before he be ready to go.

excunt.

I We must hie vs then.

Z Let's away.

Bis. Ho, M. Lieftenant.

Lieften. Who calls there?

Bif. A friend of yours.

Lieften. Mylord of Rochester, your honor's welcome.

Bish. Sir heres my warrant from the Counfell, For conference with fir Iohn Old-castle, Vpon some matter of great consequence.

Lieften. Ho, sir Iolin.

Harp. Who calls there?

Lieften. Harpoole, tel Sir Iohn, that my lord of Rochester comes from the counfell to conferre with him.

Harp. I will fir.

Lief. I thinke you may as fafe without suspition, As any man in England as I heare,

For it was you most labor'd his commitment.

Bish. I did fir, and nothing repent it I affure you. Enter fir John Old-caftle.

M. Lieftenant I pray you giue vs leaue, I must conferre here with fir John a little.

Lief. With all my heart my lord. Harpaside. My lord be rulde by me, take this occasion while is offered, and on my life your lordship shal escape.

OH-CA

sir John Old-castle.

Old.ca. No more I say, peace lest he should suspect it.

Bish. Sir Iohn I am come vnto you from the lords of his highnesse most honorable counsell, to know if yet you do recant your errors, conforming you vnto the holy church.

Old-ca. My lord of Rochester on good aduise,

I fee my error, but yet vnderstand me,
I meane not error in the faith I hold,
But error in submitting to your pleasure,
Therefore your lordship without more to do,
Must be a meanes to help me to escape.

Bis. What meanes? thou heretike?

Darst thou but lift thy hand against my calling?

fir Iohn No not to hurt you for a thousand pound, Harp. Nothing but to borrow your vpper garments a little; not a word more, for if you do, you die: peace, for waking the children, there, put them on, dispatch, my lord, the window that goes out into the leads, is sure enough, I told you that before, there, make you ready, ile conuay him after, and bind him surely in the inner roome.

Old-ca. This is well begun, God fend vs happie speed, Hard shift you see men make in time of need: Harpoole.

Harp. Heere my Lord, come come away.

Enter serving men againe.

I I maruell that my lord should stay so long.

2 He hath fent to fecke vs, I dare lay my life.
2 We come in good time, fee where he is comming.

Harp. I befeech you good my lord of Rochester, be fauorable to my lord and maister.

Old-ca. The inner roomes be very hot and close,

I do not like this ayre here in the Tower.

Harp His case is hard my lord, you shall safely get out of the Tower, but I will downe vpon them, in which time get you away.

Old-ca. Fellow thou troublest me.

Harp. Heare me my Lord, hard under Islington wait you my comming, I will bring my Lady ready, with horses to conuay you hence.

Old-ca. Fellow, go back agains vnto thy Lord and counsell him.

Harp. Nay my good lord of Rochester, ile bring you to S. Albons through the woods, I warrant you.

Old-ca. Villaine away.

Harp. Nay fince I am past the Towers libertie, thou part it not fo. he drawes.

Bis. Clubbes, clubs, clubs.

1 Murther, murther murther.

2 Downe with him.

they fight.

2 A villaine traitor.

Harp. You cowardly rogues.

fir lobne capes.

Enter Lieftenant and his men. Lieft. Who is so bold as dare to draw a sword.

So neare vnto the entrance of the Tower? I This ruffian servant to fir John Old-cassle was like to haue flaine my Lord.

Lieft. Lay hold on him.

Harp. Stand off if you loue your puddings.

Rochester calls within,

Roch within. Help help help, M. Lieftenant help. Lief. Who's that within fome treason in the Tower vpon my life, looke in, who s that which calls? enter Roch bound Lief. Without your cloke my lord of Rochester?

Harp. There, now it workes, then let me speed, for now is the fittell time for me to scape away.

Lief. Why do you looke so ghastly and affrighted?

Roch. Old-calle that traitor and his man, When you had left me to conferre with him. Tooke, bound, and stript me, as you see, And left me lying in his inner chamber,

And so departed, and I Lief. And you incre fav that the Lord Cobhams man Did here fet vpon you like to murther you.

I And so he did.

Rock.

	•

sir Iohn Old-castle.

Roch. It was vpon his master then he did, That in the brawle the traitor might escape.

Lief. Where is this Harpoole?

2 Here he was euen now.

Lief. Where can you tell? they are both escap'd, Since it so happens that he is escap de, I am glad you are a witnesse of the same,

It might have else beene laid vnto my charge, That I had beene consenting to the fact.

Rach. Come, fearch shall be made for him with expedition, the hauens laid that he shall not escape, and hue and crie continue thorough England, to find this damned dangerous heretike.

exeunt.

Enter Cambridge, Scroope, and Gray, as in a chamber, and see downe at a table, consulting about their treason: King Harry and Suffolke listning at the doore.

Camb. In mine opinion, Scroope hath well aduide,
Poison will be the only aptest meane,

And fittelt for our purpole to dispatch him.

Gray But yet there may be doubt in their deliuery,

Harry is wife, therefore Earle of Cambridge,

I Judge that way not fo convenient.

Scroop What thinke ye then of this? I am his bedfellow,

And vnsuspected nightly sleepe with him.
V Vhat if I venture in those silent houres,
V Vhen sleepe hath sealed vp all mortall eies,

To murder him in bed? how like ye that?

Camb. Herein confistes no safetie for your selfe, And you disclosse, what shall become of vs? But this day (as ye know) he will aboord, The wind so faire, and set away for France, If as he goes, or entring in the ship,

It might be done, then it were excellent,

Gray VV hy any of these, or if you will,

Ile cause a present sitting of the Councell, VV herein I will pretend some matter of such weight,

As needes must have his royall company,
And to dispatch him in the Councell chamber.

Camb. Tush, yet I heare not any thing to purpose,
I wonder that lord Cobham staies so long,
His counsell in this case would much availe vs.

They rife from the table, and the King step: into them with his Lordes.

God

Scroop What shal we rife thus, and determine nothing? Har. That were a shame indeede, no, sit againe, And you thall have my counfell in this cafe, If you can find no way to kill this King, Then you thall see how I can further ve, Scroopes way by poison was indifferent, But yet being bed-fellow vnto the King, And vnfuspected fleeping in his befome, In mine opinion, that's the likelier way, For such false friends are able to do much, And filent night is Treason's fittest friend, Now, Cambridge in his fetting hence for France, Or by the way, or as he goes abourd, To do the deed, that was indifferent too, Yet fornewhat doubtful; might I speake my mind, For many reasons needelesse now to vige. Mary Lord Gray came fomething neare the point, To have the King at councell, and there murder him, As Cæsar was amongst his dearest friends: None like to that, if all were of his mind. Tell me oh tel me you bright honors staines, For which of all my kindnesses to you, Are ye become thus traitors to your king? And France must have the spoile of Harries life? All. Oh pardon vs dreadlord. all kneeling. Har. How pardon ye?that were a sinne indeed, Drag them to death, which infly they deserve, they leade And France shall dearely buy this villany, them AWAY. So soone as we set footing on her breast,

•

sir fohn Old-castle.

God haue the praise for our deliuerance, And next, our thankes (Lord Cobham) is to thee, True perfect murror of nobilitie.

Enter the hoste, sir John Old-sastle, and Harpoole.

Hose Sir, you are welcome to this house, to such as heere is with all my heart, but by the masse I feare your lodging wilbe the woorst, I have but two beds, and they are both in a charber, and the carrier and his daughter lies in the one, and you and your wife must lie in the other.

'.L.Cobb. In faith fir, for my felfe I doe not greatly passe, My wife is weary, and would be at rest, For we have traveld very far to day,

We must be content with such as you have.

Hofe But I cannot tell how to doe with your man.

Harpoole What, hast thou neuer an empty roome in thy house for me?

Hoste Nota bedde by my troth: there came a poore Irish man, and I lodgde him in the barne, where he has faire straw, though he have nothing else.

Harp. Well mine holle, I pray thee helpe mee to a payre of faire sheetes, and He go lodge with him.

Hoste By the masse that thou shalt, a good payre of hempen sheetes, were neuer laine in : Come. exennt.

Enter Constable, Maior, and Watch.

Maior What haue you searcht the towne?

Conft All the towne fir, we have not left a house vnsearcht that vies to lodge ...

Maior Surely my lord of Rochester was then deceiude,
Or ill informed of sir Iohn Old-castle,
Or if he came this way hees past the towne,
He could not else have scapt you in the search.
Const. The printy watch hath beene abroad all night,

And not a stranger lodgeth in the towne But he is knowne, onely a lusty priest VVe found in bed with a pretty wench,

That

That fayes the is his wife, yonder at the fheeres:
But we have chargede the hofte with his forth comming
To morow morning.

Maior What thinke you best to do?

Confl. Faith mailler maior, heeres a few stragling houses beyond the bridge, and a little Innewhere cariers vie to lodge, though I thinke surely he would need odge there: but weele go search, & the rather, because there came notice to the towne the last night of an Irish man, that had done a murder, whome we are to make search for.

Conf. First beset the house, before you begin the search.

Confe. Content, euery man take a seuerall place.

heere is heard a great noyse within.

Keepe, keepe, strike him downe there, downe with him.

Enter (on thable with the Iryh man in Harpooles apparell.

Con. Come you villainous heretique, confesse where your maister is.

Irill man Vat mefter?

Maior Vatmester, you counterfeit rebell, this shall not seine your turne.

Irihman Besent Patrike I hano mester.

Con. V V heres the lord Cobham fir Iohn Old-caftle that lately is escaped out of the Tower.

Iruh min Vat lort Cobham?

Maior You counterfeit, this shall not ferue you, weele torture you, weele make you to confesse where that arch-hereuque Lord Cobham is: come binde him fast.

Irifi man Ahone, ahone, a hone, a Cree.

Con. Alione, you crafty rascall?

Lord Cobham comes out in his gowne fleating.

Cobb. Harpoole, Harpoole, I heare a maruelous noyle about the houte, God warant vs, I feare wee are purfued: what Harpoole.

Harp within. VVho calles there?

Colh. Tis I, dost thou not heare a noyfe about the house?

Harp.

fir Iohn Old-castle.

Harp. Yes mary doe I, zwounds, I can not finde my hofe, this Irith rafcall that was lodgde with me all night, hath ftolne my apparell, and has left me nothing but a low fie mantle, and a paire of broags. Get vp. get vp., and if the carier and his wench be afleep, change you with them as he hath done with me, and feeif we can escape.

Anoyse againe heard about the house, a pretty while, then enter the Constable meeting Hurpoole in the Irish mans appar-

Con. Stand close, heere comes the Irish man that didde the murther, by all tokens, this is he.

Major And perceiving the house beset, would get away:

stand firra.

Harp. What art thou that bidst me stand?

Con. I am the Officer, and am come to fearch for an Irish man, such a villaine as thy selfe, that hast murthered a man this last night by the hie way.

Harp. Sbloud Constable, art thou madde? am I an Irish man?

Maior Sirra, weele finde you an Irish man before we part: Iay hold upon him.

Con. Make him fast: O thou bloudy rogue!

Enter Lord Cobbam and his lady in the carrier and wenches apparrell.

Cobban What will these Offers sleepe all day? Good morow, good morow, Come wench, come, Saddle, saddle, now afore God too foord dayes, ha?

Con. Who comes there?

Maior Oh tis Lankashire carier, let him passe.

Cobham What, will no body open the gates here?

Come, lets int stable to looke to our capons.

The carrier calling.

Club calling Hoste, why offler, zwookes, heres such a bomination company of boies: a pox of this pigstie at the house end, it filles all the house full offleas, offler, offler.

Ofter Who calles there, what would you have?

Club

Club Zwookes, do yourobbe your ghests? doe you lodge rogues and slaues, and scoundrels, harthey ha stolne our cloths here: why offler?

Offler A murrein choake you, what a bawling you keepe.
Hoffe How now, what woulde the carrier haue? looke up

there.

Offler They say that the man and woman that lay by them have stolne their clothes.

Hoste VVhat, are the strange folkes vp yet that came in yester night?

Const. VV hat mine hoste, vp so early?

Hoste VVhat, maister Maior, and maister Constablet
Maior VVe are come to seeke for some suspected persons, and such as heere we found, have apprehended.

Enter the Carrier and Kate in lord Cobham and ladees apparell.

Con. VVho comes heere?

Cinb VVho comes here? a plague found ome, you bawle quoth a, ods hat, He forzweare your house, you lodgde a fellow and his wife by vs that ha runne away with our parrel, and left vs such gew-gawes here, come Kate, come to mee, thowse dizeard yfaith.

Major Minehoste, know you this man?

Haste Yes mailter Maior, Ilegiue my word for him, why neibor Club, how comes this geare about?

on my head, now the lads and the lastes won flowt me too too

Const. How came this man and woman thus attired?

Hoste Here came a man and woman hither; this last night, which I did take for substantial people, and lodgdeath in one chamber by these folkes: meethinkes, have beeneso bolde to change apparell, and gone away this morning ere they rose.

Major That was that villaine traitour Old-cassle, that thus escaped vs: make out huy and cry yet after him, keepe fast that traiterous rebell his semant there: farewell mine hoste.

Carier Come Kate Owdham, thou and Hetrimly dizard.

Kate Haith neame Club, He wot nere what to do, Hebe for flowted

sir John Old-castle.

flowted and so showted at : but byth messe Ife cry. Enter Priest and Dell.

fir Iohn Come Dol, come, be mery wench,

Farewell Kent, we are not for thee,

Be lusty my lasse, come for Lancashire,

We must nip the Boung for these crownes.

Doll Why is all the gold spent already that you had the other day?

fir John Gone Doll, gone, flowne, spent, vanished, the divel, drinke and the dice, has denoured all.

Doll You might have left me in Kent, that you might, vntil you had bin better provided, I could have staied at Cobham.

fir Iohn No Dol, no, ile none of that, Kent's too hot Doll, Kent's too hot: the weathercocke of Wrotham will crow no longer, we have pluckt him, he has loft his feathers. I have prunde him bare, left him thrice, is moulted, is moulted, wech

Doll Faith fir Iohn, I might have gone to feruice againe, old maister Harpoole told me he would prouide me a mistris. fir Iohn Peace Doll, peace, come mad wench, Ile make thee an honest woman, weele into Lancashire to our friends, the trothis, lle marry thee, we want but a little mony to buy vs a horse, and to spend by the way, the next sheep that comes shall loose his fleece, weele have these crownes wench I warrant thee: ftay, who comes here? fome Irish villaine me thinkes that enter the Irish man with his master flaine.

has slaine a man, and drawes him out of the way to rifle him: stand close Doll, weele see the end.

The Irish man falls to rifle his master. Alas poe mester, S. Rishard Lee, besaint Patricke is rob and cut thy trote, for dee shaine, and dy money, and dee gold ring, be me truly is love thee wel, but now dow be kil thee, bee thitten kanaue.

fir Iohn. Stand firra, what are thou?

Irishman. Be saint Patricke mester is pore Irisman, is a leufter. fir Iohn Sirra, firra, you are a danned rogue, you have killeda man here, and rifled him of all that he has, sbloud you rogue sogue deliuer, or ile not leaue you so much as an Irish haire aboue your shoulders, you who soon Irish dogge, firra vintrusse presently, come off and dispatch, or by this crosse ile fetch your head off as cleane as a barke.

Irifman. Wees me faint Patricke, Ife kill me mefter for chaine and his ring, and nows be rob of all, mees vindoo.

Priestrobs him.

fir John Auant vou 1ascal, go sirra, be walking, come Doll the diuel laughes, when one theese robs another, come madde wench, weele to saint Albons, and reuel in our bower, hey my brane girle.

Doll O thou art old fir Iohn when all's done yfaith.

Enter the hofte of the Bell, with the Irif man.

Irifoman Berne tro mefter is pore Irifman, is want ludging, is haue no mony, is starue and cold, good mester give her some meate is famile and tie.

Host Yfaith my fellow I have no lodging, but what I keep for my guesse, that I may not disapoint, as for meate thou shale have such as there is, & if thou will lie in the barne, theres faire straw, and roome enough.

Irishman Is thanke my mester hartily, de strawis good bed for me.

Hoft Ho Robin?
Robin Who calls?

Hoff Shew this poore Irishman into the barne, go sirra.

Enter carrier and Kate.

Club. Ho, who's within here, who lookes to the horses? Gods hatte heres fine worke, the hens in the manger, and the hogs in the litter, a bots found you all, heres a house well looke too yvaith.

Kate Mas goffe Club, He very cawd.

Club. Getin Kate, get in to fier and warme thee.

Chib Ho John Hoftler.

Hoftler What gaffer Club, welcome to faint Albons,

How does all our friends in Lancashire?

(Inb.

sir Iohn Old-castle

Club Well God haue mercie Iohn, how does Tom, wheres

Hostler O Tom is gone from hence, hees at the three horse-loues at Stony-stratford, how does old Dick Dunne?

Club Gods hatte old Dunne has bin moyerd in a flough in Brickhil-lane, a plague found it, yonder is fuch abhomination weather as neuer was feene.

Hostler. Gods hat thiefe, have one half pecke of pease and oates more for that, as I am Iohn Ostler, hee has been ever as good a lade as ever traveld.

Club Faith well faid old Iacke, thou art the old lad ftil.

Hostler Come Gaffer Club, vnlode, vnlode, and get to supper, and Ile rub dunne the while. Come. execut.

Enter sir Iohn Old-castle, and his Lady disguisde.

Oldca. Come Madam, happily escapt, here let vs sit, This place is farre remote from any path, And here awhile our wearv limbs may rest, To take respeshing, free from the pursuite Ofenuious Winchester.

Lady But where (my Lord,)
Shall we find rest for our disquiet minds?
There dwell vntamed thoughts that hardly stoupe,
To such abasement of disdained rags,
We were not wont to trauell thus by night,
Especially on soote.

Oldea. No matter loue,
Extremities admit no better choice,
And were it not for thee fay froward time,
Imposse a greater taske, I would esteeme it
As lightly as the wind that blowes upon vs,
But in thy sufferance I am doubly taskt,
Thou wast not wont to haue the earth thy stoole, Northe moist dewy graffe thy pillow, nor
Thy chamber to be the wide horrison,

Lady How can it seeme a trouble, having you A partner with me, in the worst I feele?

No gentle Lord, your presence would give ease To death it selfe, thould be now feaze vpon me, Behold what my forelight hath undertane heres bread and For feare we faint, they are but homely cates, cheefe & a bottle. Yet faucde with hunger, they may feeme as fweete, As greater dainties we were wont to talte. Oldea. Praise be to him whose plentic sends both this, And all things else our mortall bodies need, Nor scorne we this poore feeding, nor the state We now are in, for what is it on earth, Nay ynder heauen, continues at a flay? Ebbes not the fea, when it hath overflowne? Flower not darknes when the day is gone? And see we not sometime the eje of heaven, Dimmd with overflying clowdes: theres not that worke Of carefull nature, or of cunning art, (How strong, how beauteous, or how rich it be) But falls in time to ruine: here gentle Madame,

In this one draught I wash my forrow downe. drinkes.

Lady And I incoraged with your cheerefull speech,

Wil do the like.

Oldca. Pray God poore Harpoole come, If he should fall into the Bishops hands, Or not remember where we bade him meete vs, It were the thing of all things else, that now Could breede reuolt in this new peace of mind.

Lady Feare not my Lord, hees witty to deuile,

And strong to execute a present shift.

Oldea. That power be ful his guide hath guided vs.
My drowlie cies waxe heary, earely rifing,
Together with the trauell we have had,
Make me that I could gladly take a nap,
Were I perswaded we might be secure.
Lady Letthat depend on me, whilst you do sleepe,

Ile watch that no sinsfortune happen vs, Lay then your head vponing lap sweete Lord,

And

sir Iohn Old-castle

And boldly take your rest.

Oldea. I shal deare wise,
Be too much trouble to thee.

Lady Vrge not that,
My duty binds me and your!

My duty binds me, and your loue commands.
I would I had the skil with tuned voyce,
To draw on fleep with some sweet inclodic,
But imperfection and vnaptnesset too,
Are both repugnant, searce inserts the one,
The other nature hath denied me vse.
But what talke I of meanes to purchase that,
Is freely hapned? sleepe with gentle hand,
Hath shut his eie-liddes, oh victorious labour,
How soone thy power can charme the bodies sense?
And now thou likewise climbst vnto my braine,
Making my heauy temples stoupe to thee,
Great God of heauen from danger keepe vs free. both sleepes.

Enter fir Richard Lee, and his men Lee. A murder closely done and in my ground? Search carefully, if any where it were, This obscure thicket is the likeliest place.

fernant. Sir I have found the body stiffe with cold,
And mangled cruelly with many wounds.

Lee Looke if thou knowest him, turne his body vp, Alackeit is my son, my sonne and heire, Whom two yeares since, I sent to Ireland, To practise there the discipline of warre, And comming home (for so he wrote to me) Some sauage hart, some bloudy diuellish hand, Either in hate, or thirs ling for his coyne, Hath here slucde out his bloud, whappy houre, Accursed place, but most inconstant sate, That hadst reserved him from the bullets fire, And suffered him to scape the wood-kannes sury, Didst here ordaine the treasure of his life, (Euen here within the armes of tender peace,

And

And where feculity gate greatest hope) To be confumde by treatons waltefull hand? And what is most afflicting to my soule, That this his death and murther thould be wrought, 🗸, Without the knowledge by whose meanes twas done, 2 /ers. Not fo fir, I have found the authors of it,

See where they fit, and in their bloudy fiftes, The fatallinstruments of death and sinne.

Lee Iust judgement of that power, whose gracious eie, Loathing the light of fuch a hainous fact, Dazeled their fenfes with benumming fleepe, Till their vnhallowed treachery were knowne: Awake ye monsters, murderers awake, Tremble for horror, blush you cannot chuse, Beholding this inhumane deed of yours.

Old. What meane you fir to trouble weary foules,

And interrupt vs of our quiet fleepe?

Lee Oh diuellish!can you boast vnto your selucs Of quiet fleepe, having within your hearts The guilt of muilder waking, that with cries Deafes the lowd thunder, and follicites heaven, With more than Mandrakes threekes for your offence?

Lady Old. What murder?you vpbraid vs wrongfully.

Lee Can you deny the fact lee you not heere, The body of my forme by you mif-done? Looke on his wounds, looke on his purple hew: Do we not finde you where the deede was done? Were not your kniues fast closed in your hands? Is not this cloth an argument befide, Thus staind and spotted with his innocent blood? Thefe speaking characters, were nothing elfe To pleade against ve, would connict you both. Bring them away, bereauers of my iov, At Hartford where the Sifes now are kept, Their lives thall answere for my fonnes loft life. Cld caftle. As we are innocent, so may we speede.

sir John Old-castle.

Lee As I am wrongd so may the law proceede. exemns.

Enter bestoop of Rochester, constable of S. Albons, with six loss of Wrotham, Doll his wench, and the Irishman in Harpooles apparell.

Bifting What intricate confusion have we here?
Not two houres since we apprehended one,
In habite Irish, but in speech, not so:
And now you bring another, that in speech
I altogether Irish, but in habite
Seemes to be English: yea and more than so.
The servant of that heretike Lord Cobham.
Irishman Fait me be no servant of the lord Cobhams,

Me be Mack Chane of Vifter.

Bishop Otherwise calld Harpoole of Kent, go to fir,

You cannot blinde vs with your broken Irish.

for Lohn Trust me, my Lord Bishop, whether Irish,
Or English, Harpoole or not Harpoole, that
I leaue to be decided by the triall:
But fure I am this man by face and speech
Is he that murdred yong fir Richard Lee:
I met him presently upon the fact,
And that he slew his maister for that gold,
Those iewells and that chaine I tooke from him.

Biltop Well, our affaires doe call vs backe to London, So that we cannot profectite the cause As we desire to do, therefore we leaue The charge with you, to see they be contained. To Hartford Sife: both this counterfaite And you sir John of Wrotham, and your wench, For you are culpable as well as they, Though not for murder, yet for felony. But since you are the meanes to bring to light. This gracelesse murder, you shall beare with you, Our letters to the Judges of the bench, To be your friendesin what they lawfull may.

sir Iohn I thanke your Lordship.

Bif. So, away with them.

Enter Gacler and his man bringing forth Old castle.

Gaoler Bring forth the prisoners, see the court preparde,
The Iustices are comming to the bench.

So, let him stand, away, and fetch the rest.

exeunt.

Old. Oh give me parience to indure this scourge, Thou that art fountaine of that vertuous streame, And though contempt, false witnes, and reproch Hang on these yron gyues, to presse my life As low as earth, yet strengthen me with faith, That I may mount in spirite about the cloudes.

Enter Gaoler bringing in Lady Old castle, and Harpeole.

Here comes my lady, forow its for her,
Thy wound is greeuous, elle I fcoffe at thee.
What and poore Harpoole! art thou ith bryars too?
Harp. If aith my Lord, I amin, get out how I can.
Lady Say (gentle Lord) for now we are alone,
And may conferre, shall we confesse in Briefe,

Of whence, and what we are, and so preuent.

The accusation is commenced against vs?

Old. What will that helpe vs? being knowne, sweete loue.
VVe shall for heresie be put to death,
For so they tearme the religion we professe.
No, if it be ordained we must die,

And at this inflant, this our comfort be,
That of the guilt imposde, our foules are free.

Harp. Yea, yea mylord, Harpoole is so resolude, I wreake of death the lesse, in that I die
Not by the sentence of that enuious priest
The Bishop of Rochester, oh were it he,
Or by his meanes that I should suffer here,
I twould be double torment to my soule.

Lady VVell be it then according as heaven pleafe.

Enter lord Indge, two Inflices, Maior of Saint Albons, lord

Powesse and his lady, and old fir Richard Lee: the Indge

and Inslices tak, their places.

Indge

sir Iohn Old-castle.

Indge Now M. Maior, what gentleman is that, You bring with you, before vs, and the bench? Major The Lord Powes if it like your honor, And this his Lady, trauelling toward Wales, Who for they lodgde last night within my house, And my Lord Bishop did lay search for such, Were very willing to come on with me, Lest for their fakes, suspition we might wrong. Indge We crie your honor mercy good my Lord, Wilt please ye take your place, madame your ladyship, May here or where you will repose your felfe, Vitill this businesse now in hand be past. Lady Po. I will withdraw into fome other roome, So that your Lordship, and the rest be pleased. Indge With all our hearts: attend the Lady there. Lord Po. Wife, I have cycle youd prisoners all this while And my conceit doth tel me, tis our friend,

The noble Cobham, and his vertuous Lady. Lady Po. I thinke no leffe, are they suspected trow ye

For doing of this murder?

Lord Po. What it meanes, I cannot tell, but we shall know anon,

Meanespace as you passe by them, ask the question, But do it secretly, you be not seene,

And make some signe that I may know your mind. Lady Po. My Lord Cobham, madam? as she passeth oner the Old. No Cobha now, nor madam as you loue vs, stage by the.

But Iohn of Lancashire, and Ione his wife. Lady Po. Oh tel, what is it that our loue can do,

To pleafure you, for we are bound to you.

Oldea. Nothing but this, that you conceale our names, So gentle lady passe for being spied.

Lady Po. My heart I leave, to beare part of your griefe. exit. Indge Call the prisoners to the barre: fir Richard Lee,

What euidence can you bring against these people, To proue them guiltie of the murder done?

K 3

Les.

Lee. This bloudy towell, and these naked kniues, Beside we found them sitting by the place, Where the dead body lay within a bush.

Indge VV hat answer you why law should not proceed,

According to this euidence given in,

To taxe ye with the penalty of death?

Old. That we are free from murders very thought,

And know not how the gentleman was flaine.

I lust. How came this linner cloth so boudy then?

Lady Cob. My husband hot with trauelling my lord,
His nose gusht out a bleeding that was it. (sheather lis note guffit out a bleeding, that was it. (fheathde?

2 Inft. But wherefore were your sharpeedgde kniues va-

Lidy Cob. To cut fuch simple victuall as we had. Iudge Say we admit this answer to those articles,

V V hat made ye in so private a darke nooke,

So far remote from any common path,

As was the thicke where the dead corpes was throwne?

Old. Journving my lord from London from the terms.

Downe into Lancashire where we do dwell, And what with age and trauell being faint, VVe gladly sought a place where we might rest,

Free from refort of other passengers,

And so we strayed into that secret corner.

Indge Thele are but ambages to drive of time,
And linger Iuftice from her purposde end.
But who are these?

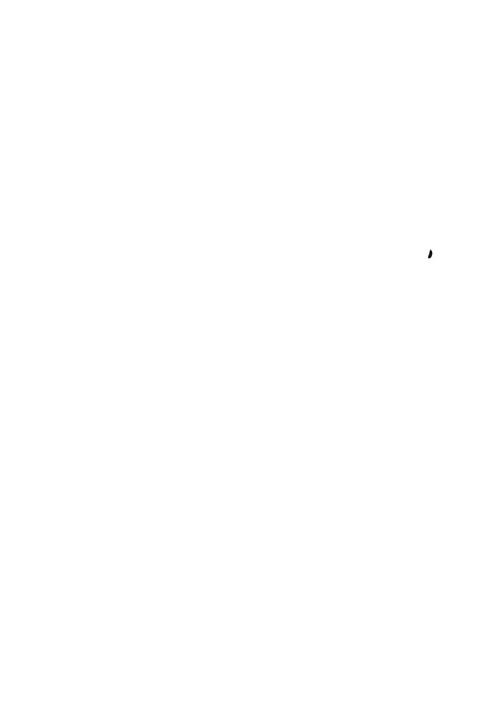

Enter the Conflable, bringing in the Irishman, fir Iohn of Wrotham and Dell.

Conf. Stay Indgement, and release those innocents,
For here is hee, whose hand hath done the deed,
For which they stand indited at the barre,
This sauage villaine, this rude Irish slaue,
His tongue already hath confest the fact,
And here is witnes to confirme as much.

fir lokn Yes my good Lords, no fooner had he flaine His louing mafter for the wealth he had,

But

sir fohn Old-castle.

But I vpon the instant met with him,
And what he purchacde with the losse of bloud:
With strokes I presently bereau'de him of,
Some of the which is spent, the rest remaining,
I willingly surrender to the hands
Of old fir Richard Lee, as being his,
Beside my Lord Sudge, I greet your honor,
With letters from my Lord of Winchester. delivers a letter.

Lee Is this the wolfe whole thirfly throate did drinke
My deare fonnes bloud? art thou the fnake
He cherifht, yet with envious piercing fling,
Affaildft him mortally? foule fligmatike,
Thouvenome of the country where thou finedft,
And peffilence of this were it not that law
Stands ready to reuenge thy ciuclie,
Traitor to God, thy mafter, and to me,

These hands should be thy executioner.

Indge Patience six Richard Lec, you shall have suffice,

And he the guerdon of his base desert,

The fact is odious, therefore take him hence,

The fact is odious, therefore take him hence, And being hangde vatal the wretch be dead, His body after shall be hangd in chaines, Neare to the place, where he did act the murder.

my ftrouces there, and let me be hangd in a with after my cuntry, the Irish fashion.

Iudge Go to, away with him, and now fir John, Although by you, this murther came to light, And therein you have well deferu'd yet vpright law, So will not have you be excussed and quit, For you did rob the Irishman, by which You stand attained here of felony, Beside, you have bin lewd, and many yeares Led alascinious ynbeseeming life.

fir Ishn Oh but my Lord, he repents, fir Ishn repents, and he will mend.

Indge.

Indge In hope thereof, together with the fauour, My Lord of Winchester intreates for you, We are content you shall be proued. fir John I thanke your good Lordship, Iudge These other fulfly here, accuse, and brought In perill wrongfully, we in like fort Do fet at liberty, paying their fees. Lord Po. That office if it please ye I will do, For countries take, because I know them well, They are my neighbours, therefore of my coft, Their charges shall be paide. Lee. And for amends, Touching the wrong vnwittingly I have done, There are a few crownes mo, e for them to drinke, gines them Indge. Your kindnes merites praise fir kichard Lee, a purse. So let vs hence. exeunt all but Lord Towesse and Oldcastle Lord Po. But Powell's fill must stay, There yet remaines a part of that true loue, He owes his noble friend unfatisfide, And unperformd which first of all doth bind me. To gratulate your lordships safe delivery, And then intreat, that fince vilookt for thus, We here are met, your honor would vouchfafe, To ride with me to Wales, where though my power, (Though not to quittance those great benefites, I have received of you) yet both my house, My purfe my fernants, and what elfe I haue, Are all at your command, deny me not, I know the Bishops hate pursues ve so, As theres no fafety in abiding here. Old. Tis true my Lord, and God forgive him for it. Lord Po. Then let vs hence, you shall be straight prouided Oflufty geldings, and once entred V Vales, VVellmay the Bishop hunt, but spight his face, 9 NO 58

FINIS.

exeunt.

He never more shall have the game in chace.

		i i

,
4,

LADAY USE RETURN TO DESK FROM WHICH BORROWED

This pook is due on the last date stamped perow, or on the date to which renewed.

MA	IR - 1 19	68 5.4
		sh.
	Jun
	7
	DURC			 W & 1
	EC.D
		1579	491

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA LIBRARY

